Farmer Seeks Cure for Economic Ills

Representatives of the nation's biggest business, farming, are in Victoria today to discuss their problems and the plans of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture for the future. Typical is Jack Byers, Calgary, pictured here.

Farmers Want Barter, Sterling Payments for British Markets

Western Canadian farmers want to see revival of trade with Britain, assisted by acceptance of sterling payments, long-term credits and barter in goods. Loss of the British markets, said delegates representing the largest farmer organizations in western Canada, in convention here today, had been a heavy blow to Canadian economy. Unanimously, the delegates, meeting at the Empress Hotel, endorsed a resolution urging the federal government to restore former trade channels. British Columbia farmers comprised one of the main groups which spoke strongly in favor of the resolution which is directly opposed to the present trade policy of the federal government.

Col. A. W. McLellan, Cloverdale, B.C., pointed out that trade with the sterling area was the only way Canadian farmers can get rid of surplus farm products.

HUNGER AMID PLENTY

"Why should food be permitted to go to waste when there are countries greatly in need of food?" he asked.

It was pointed out that the closing of the British markets to important primary products originating in Canada, including agricultural, horticultural, poultry, livestock, forest and fisheries commodities, is impairing the economy of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Delegates felt that the federal government could develop a two-way trade between Canada and the United Kingdom to improve particularly the economy of the four western provinces.

This question will be one of the main issues to be threshed out between western farmers and Hon. James G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, who will be in Victoria Tuesday to open the national convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Chilcotin Drydocked After Touching Shoal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Union Steamships' vessel Chilcotin arrived here from her northern run Sunday night and reported she had "touched bottom" on a shoal off Cumshewa Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands. She arrived on schedule.

The ship received no visible damage but will go into drydock today for a survey.

TV FOR B.C. BY YEAR END CBC PROMISES

'Fringe' Reception Likely in Victoria

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Company expects that its Vancouver television station will be in operation by "the end of this year," serving British Columbia's lower mainland and the east coast of Vancouver Island.

Vancouver Island points such as Victoria and Nanaimo, however, can expect only "fringe" reception, according to Kenneth Caple, CBC regional representative. Obstacles such as small mountains would hamper reception, he said, and cited Mount Douglas in Victoria as a possible "shadow" area.

DOWNTOWN STUDIO

Mr. Caple today announced the purchase of a downtown studio site and the opening of negotiations for a transmitter site on North Vancouver's Froome Mountain.

"We are speeding up our project on a top priority basis," said Caple, "and expect to have our Vancouver TV outlet in operation by the end of this year."

Purchase of a building in Vancouver's West End, 1200 Georgia Street, was made to accommodate special television studios, Caple said. The price of the building was not disclosed.

Negotiations have opened with the North Vancouver municipal council for purchase of a site 1400 feet above sea level on Froome Mountain for construction of a transmitter building and erection of a 290-foot "directional antenna."

Speedy completion of the $1,000,000 project is dependent on construction of special equipment, said Caple.

Caple promised "satisfactory coverage" for most areas of lower British Columbia and added that roof antennas would not be needed by Vancouver viewers.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

Self-Confidence: Breeder of Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, DD

Have faith in your abilities: Without a humble but reasonable confidence in your own powers you cannot be successful or happy. But with sound self-confidence you can succeed. A sense of inferiority and inadequacy interferes with the attainment of your hopes, but self-confidence leads to self-realization and successful achievement.

It is appalling to realize the number of pathetic people who are hampered and made miserable by the malady popularly called the inferiority complex. But you need not suffer from this trouble. When proper steps are taken, it can be overcome. You can develop creative faith in yourself—faith that is justified.

After speaking to a convention of businessmen in a city auditorium, I was greeting people when a man approached me and, with a peculiar intensity of manner, asked, "May I talk with you about a matter of desperate importance to me?"

I asked him to remain until the others had gone. Then we sat down.

"I'm in this town to handle the most important business deal of my life," he explained. "If I succeed, it means everything to me. If I fail, I'm done for."

I suggested that he relax a little, that nothing was quite that final. If he succeeded, that was fine. If he didn't, tomorrow was another day.

"I have a terrible disbelief in myself," he said dejectedly. "I have no confidence. I just don't believe I can put it over. I am very discouraged and depressed. In fact, I'm just about sunk. Here I am, 40 years old. Why is it that all my life I have been tormented by inferiority feelings, by lack of confidence, by self-doubt? I listened to your speech tonight in which you talked about the power of positive thinking, and I want to ask how I can get some faith in myself."

Glad t' hev all them farmer fellers in town this week. Got a window box that ain't bin doin' so well an' I'm hopin' t' git a little advice.

Heard th' CPR's Empress had burned. But 'twasn't till a report said she'd keeled over I realized I had th' wrong place in mind.

Bet th' drygoods men are wonderin' about night store possibilities now.

Empress of Canada Fire Probed; Arson Hinted

Proud Ship Burns at Dock

The 20,235-ton Empress of Canada, destroyed by fire in the Mersey Sunday, was formerly the Duchess of Richmond, and was well-known to Second World War veterans as a troop ship. After the war she was renamed the Empress of Canada for the first Empress of Canada, which was sunk by an enemy submarine off Freetown, West Africa, with the loss of 400 lives. Her end came shortly before she was to have been replaced. Managing director A. C. MacDonald said recently that the keel of a ship to replace her would be laid next summer or fall with completion expected in two or three years.

Railwaymen Say Progress Made in Talk

MONTREAL (CP)—Railway officials reported progress today at their meeting with the negotiating committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, called in an effort to avert a strike Feb. 2 over a wage dispute.

There was no formal statement when the meeting adjourned for lunch, but S. F. Dingle, vice-president of Canadian National Railways, said there was "progress."

L. C. Malone, secretary of the BRT, said he had nothing to report except adjournment. The meeting was resumed later this afternoon.

Mr. Dingle and N. R. Crump, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, met with the union representatives following their telegram Friday suggesting continued negotiations with themselves present.

The brotherhood originally sought a 35 per cent wage increase. The majority report of a conciliation board recommended 12 per cent and a minority report 20 per cent.

The union wanted discussions to centre around the minority report while the railway held out for the majority report as the basis of negotiations.

2,100 TRAVELERS LACKING PASSAGE

Victorians Among Heavy Bookings On Burned Liner, Coronation-Bound

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian Pacific Steamships' officials met today to plan a way to get 2,000 persons to Britain for the Coronation after their reservations aboard the Empress of Canada were automatically canceled by the ship's loss in a Liverpool dockside fire.

Neal Wiseman, passenger agent for the line, said a conference of officials "must be held at once" but he admitted that nobody knew now exactly what could be done.

It was estimated that at 700 passengers a time the ill-fated liner would have carried 2,100 persons overseas in the three trips before the Coronation, June 6.

Virtually every passenger ship bound for Britain between now and the Coronation is booked to capacity.

Victoria's travel agencies, contacted today, said it was difficult to say how many city and island people would face displacement in their plans to attend the Coronation.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, of West Saanich, booked to return here after a visit to her family in Lancaster during May, was to have taken passage in the Empress. "I have no idea what will happen," she said. "I suppose they'll find us other accommodation. But there may be delays. I understand booking has been heavy to and from the United Kingdom."

Final Step

Rita Hayworth, who maintains she has no romantic plans, gets her Nevada divorce today from Aly Khan, playboy Moslem prince she married after a globe-girdling courtship in 1949. Jack Leighton, Rita's business manager, said that no financial settlement has been reached with Aly concerning their three-year-old daughter, Yasmine, for whom Rita once asked $3,000,000. Rita qualified for the divorce more than a year ago by establishing the six-week Nevada residence.

75-Foot-Deep Slide Buries Rail Cars

BOSTON BAR, B.C. (CP)—A 75-foot-deep rock and mud slide buried three cars of a Canadian National Railways freight train in the Fraser canyon today, 19 miles south of here. Nobody was hurt.

One of the empty cars later rolled down the embankment into the river.

CNR officials said passenger trains were not held up by the 200-foot-long slide, expected to be cleared later today.

Home Office Investigator Called In

Compiled From CP Dispatches

LIVERPOOL, Eng.—The $5,000,000 luxury liner, Empress of Canada, heeled over at the dockside and settled on her side a total loss today, following a 9½-hour mysterious fire Sunday which has prompted an immediate investigation by high police officials into possible sabotage.

Dr. J. B. Firth, a home office expert, was called from London to aid in the investigation with Chief Superintendent Herbert Balmer of the Liverpool criminal investigation department. Balmer, in charge of the inquiry, said the possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out, "but the cause may have been quite accidental."

Of the fire which left the Empress of Canada, which had been freshly spruced up for this year's Coronation traffic a smoking hulk, the Daily Mail said this was the fourth mysterious fire in the Gladstone dock system at Liverpool in recent weeks. Others involved the Ellerman Line's City of Florence, the same line's City of Gloucester and small fires in the Queen Mary.

"There were suspicious circumstances" in one of the Queen Mary fires, the Daily Mail said. The sprinkler system in a cabin where the fire started appeared to have been tampered with.

PASSENGERS CLEAR

Fortunately no passengers were on board and the 25-odd crew members aboard escaped safely. But five firemen fighting the blaze were taken to hospital with minor injuries.

The fire, of undetermined origin, laid the 20,235-ton ocean queen low. The fire, which possibly started in the dispensary below decks, quickly spread through the 25-year-old vessel and rendered firemen almost helpless.

Police Superintendent Balmer made a preliminary investigation and asked the home office for the assistance of scientists. He said "the possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out."

The ship had been due to leave for Saint John, N.B., Feb. 11 under command of Capt. J. P. Dobson, on leave at his Liverpool home at the time of the fire.

Hundreds of tons of water were poured into her and speeded a sharp list to port. Her super-structure and funnels crashed into a dockside shed.

The ship's yard-arm crashed through the building. The liner ended on her side, settled in the muddy water almost up against the dockside.

A company spokesman described the vessel as a "total loss."

Her former master, Capt. E. A. Shergold, who now has a shore job with the company, said: "This is my saddest moment. We were such old friends."

She carries a crew of 350 Britons and accommodates 700 passengers.

Alberta RCAF Fatality Probed

CLARESHOLM, Alta. (CP)—An investigation has started into the fatal crash-landing of a Harvard training plane Saturday in southern Alberta, one of three RCAF crashes in Western Canada during the week-end.

Killed in the crash near High River, 35 miles north of the plane's base here, was FO James Scott, 27, of Calgary, a veteran of the Royal Navy and the RCAF. A pilot instructor, he came to Canada two years ago from Scotland.

Scott's pupil, Chief CPM Roger J. Steiner of the French Air Force, escaped injury.

Airliner Grounding Costs $70,000 a Day

LONDON (BUP)—Scotland Yard today investigated possible sabotage of airliners operated by British Overseas Airways Corporation between Britain, Canada and the United States.

A spokesman for the Crown-owned airline confirmed that Scotland Yard detectives had been called in after engineers were baffled by 15 cases of engine trouble in five days.

All of the company's 10 U.S.-built Boeing strato-cruisers—seven on this side of the Atlantic and three at North American airports—were ordered grounded indefinitely last week. The spokesman said the order was costing BOAC $70,000 a day.

In less than two months engine trouble aboard the strato-cruisers has delayed some of the world's most publicized passengers. Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were stranded at Gander, Newfoundland, for a day when their BOAC strato-cruiser developed what a spokesman said was oil-line trouble.

Since then Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the British Prime Minister, was delayed more than two hours when one of her BOAC strato-cruiser's four Pratt and Whitney "Wasp" engines failed to operate properly out of New York's Idlewild airport. She was bound for a vacation in Jamaica.

The day last week when the grounding was ordered, Churchill was to have left Jamaica aboard a strato-cruiser for New York, where he planned to board a ship for Britain. He was held up and the company sent a Constellation from New York to get him.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

A little over 30 years ago the city parks department put a horizontal bar on Foul Bay beach. It was a primitive piece of apparatus—just a couple of small logs up-ended with their butts set three or four feet into the sand and a piece of inch pipe, fixed into holes at the top of the timbers.

Whatever its shortcomings, it was sturdy, and my generation of beach rats became acrobats on it. Most of us could skin the cat, chin ourselves, do leg spins with a knee over the bar, and a few of the elect were pretty fair at muscle-grinders.

That, we figured, was a tough trick. You had to climb up onto the bar, slide down until it fitted across your shoulder blades, while you hoisted your arms around it and clasped and back, forward and back, until you worked up enough momentum to swing yourself over and start pivoting on the bar.

When you could do a muscle-grinder, you were in. The other kids came running to watch—"Lookout 'im, lookout 'im. He's doin' muscle-grinders."

The bar bit into your small biceps and your bony spine. It was agony if there happened to be sand on the pipe. But who cared about a little agony so long as the crowd was watching?

Where We Ended, They Started

Then, in wintertime, we who were acrobats would straggle down to the Y Open House and watch the experts perform on the horizontal bar in the gym. They started with muscle-grinders, our best trick, and went on from there.

Some of us finally got into the Y as members. It made us a little snobbish on apparatus work when we went back to the beach in summer, but we learned quite a lot more than how to handle ourselves on the horizontal bar.

We got to know a bunch of guys in the leader corps, junior and senior. We copied them for competency. We found out there was more to a Y than a gym. There were hobby sections, games rooms and bean feeds—you paid 10 cents for the bean supper.

Down in the swimming pool we found out that there was something more to speed strokes than the self-taught struggle we'd learned in the cold waters of Foul Bay or the warm water at the Gorge. We even picked up something on diving from a board that was four or five feet long and a foot or so off the water. But you had to be careful, diving. The pool was less than six feet deep. Too many people hit bottom and the board finally came out.

We acquired a pride in the Y. Then men-and-boys there taught us tricks, and while they were teaching, they let us know, it was part of our job to pass it on to kids less competent. Without too much emphasis, they also exposed us to other sides of Y activity—those dealing with development of the spirit and the mind, as well as the body.

We learned the satisfaction of loyalty to the outfit. We picked our heroes and tried to live up to the standards they set.

Remember the Days . . .

You look back on those years, probably recalling camp with its golden days and campfire rituals. You think of swim meets and track meets and the men who coached you. You may have drifted away from the Y in the intervening years. But now they're observing YMCA week your memories are refreshed. You recollect that it was a mighty good outfit to tie up to, to be part of.

You'll find yourself feeling a little better about things by realizing it's still doing business, still helping the youngsters to grow, changing to meet the needs of the times, but still standing on its basic principles.

It might even be worth dropping in occasionally to see how things are going along.

UN Attack Fails as Reds Open Up With Murderous Fire

SEOUL (AP)—Allied fighter-bombers ripped into Communist battlefront positions today after United Nations troops took a licking on the western Korean front in an elaborately-planned "program" raid.

The 4½-hour raid was the heaviest ground action of the new year. Allied infantry, tanks, flame-throwers, artillery and planes were thrown into the unsuccessful assault on Spud Hill.

High brass and correspondents—provided in advance with a pamphlet describing each phase of the attack—watched from nearby bunkers. Called "Operation Smack," it had been planned since January 19.

But the Chinese Communists were ready. They caught the charging UN infantrymen in a deadly crossfire.

Then the Allied troops tried to burn out the Reds with flame-throwers. However, in many instances, the flame-throwers ran out of fuel. AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported from the scene—at the southern end of T-Bone hill—that a hail of artillery shells and napalm jellied gasoline also failed to dislodge the Communists.

One of the Allied wounded told Edwards:

"If we could only have had more flame-throwers we could have burned right through them. We were doing a good job but suddenly there weren't any more flame-throwers."

Another wounded man told AP photographer Fred Waters that the flame-throwers ran out of fuel and added grimly:

"And so did the guy who was shooting it."

An Eighth Army spokesman declined to report Allied casualties but estimated 95 Chinese were killed.

City Doctor Reiterates His Charge

Claims Hospital Refused Patient

A charge that an attempted suicide was denied admittance to St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday was reiterated today by Dr. E. L. McNiven.

First reports that a 24-year-old Saanich woman victim was turned away at the hospital door were later found to be in error, however.

Attending the call, Dr. McNiven said he had telephoned St. Joseph's after the ambulance was under way from the patient's home. Sister Superior Rose Mary of St. Joseph's replied, "We don't have facilities for that kind of case."

Royal Jubilee Hospital authorities said the ambulance was diverted there before it reached St. Joseph's.

Dr. McNiven said: "Here was an emergency that needed attention. To say that she was a mental case was absurd. All I know is that she was strangled and unconscious. I am not concerned with the morals of the thing."

The patient's condition today at Jubilee is described as "improved . . . but still only fair." It was reported that the victim had no recollection of the near tragic incident.

Police Watch U.S. Trains For Sabotage

BOSTON (UP)—FBI agents and special railroad police rode trains of the New Haven Railroad today to guard against a recurrence of what is believed to be three cases of brake tampering within nine days.

Each train leaving Boston's South Station was being watched for suspicious persons near equipment that could be tampered with to cause a brake failure.

Two other railroads, the Boston and Albany and the Boston and Maine, were following the New Haven's lead in taking special precautions with braking devices.

Howard A. Moulton, public relations representative for the New Haven, said railroad officials were checking former employees who had been discharged in recent months.

The first case of apparent brake-tampering occurred Jan. 15 when the Federal Limited, including New Haven coaches from Boston ran out of control through the concourse of Union Station in Washington, D.C.

Brake trouble was spotted last Wednesday at New Haven, Conn., aboard the Boston-to-Washington "Colonial" Express, and an alert crew noticed a brake valve out of position Friday on a Boston-to-New York New Haven train at Providence, R.I.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

"There are two steps to take," I replied. "First, it is important to discover why you have these feelings of no power. That requires analysis and will take time. It cannot be done immediately and you may require treatment to reach a permanent solution. But, to pull you through this immediate problem, I shall give you a formula which will work if you use it."

"As you walk down the street tonight, repeat certain words which I shall give you. Say them over several times after you get into bed. When you awaken tomorrow, repeat them three times before arising. On the way to your important appointment, say them three additional times. Do this with an attitude of faith and you will receive sufficient strength and ability to deal with this problem. Later, if you wish, we can go into an analysis of your basic problem, but whatever we come up with following that study, the formula which I am now going to give you can be a large factor in the eventual cure."

This is the affirmation which I gave him: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Philippians 4:13). He was familiar with these words so I wrote them on a card and had him read them over three times aloud.

"Now, follow that prescription, and I am sure things will come out all right."

He pulled himself up, stood quietly for a moment, then said with considerable feeling, "O.K., Doctor, O.K."

I watched him square his shoulders and walk out into the night. He seemed a pathetic figure, and yet the way he carried himself as he disappeared showed that faith was already at work in his mind.

Subsequently he reported that this simple formula "did wonders" for him and added, "It seems incredible that a few words from the Bible could do so much for a person."

What can you do to build up your self-confidence? Following are 10 simple, workable rules for overcoming inadequacy attitudes and learning to practice faith. Thousands have used these rules, reporting successful results.

1. Formulate and stamp indelibly on your mind a mental picture of yourself as succeeding. Hold this picture tenaciously. Never permit it to fade. Never think of yourself as feeling; never doubt the reality of the mental image. That is most dangerous, for the mind always tries to complete what it pictures. So always picture "success" no matter how badly things seem to be going at the moment.

2. Whenever a negative thought concerning your personal powers comes to mind, deliberately voice a positive thought to cancel it out.

3. Do not build up obstacles in your imagination. Depreciate every so-called obstacle. Minimize them. Difficulties must be studied and efficiently dealt with to be eliminated, but they must be seen for only what they are. They must not be inflated by fear thoughts.

4. Do not be awestruck by other people and try to copy them. Nobody can be you as efficiently as YOU can. Remember also that most people despite their confidence appearance and demeanor, are often as scared as you are and as doubtful of themselves.

5. Ten times a day repeat these dynamic words, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Romans 8:31). (Stop reading and repeat them NOW slowly and confidently.)

6. Get a competent counsellor to help you understand why do what you do. Learn the origin of your inferiority and self-doubt feelings which often begin in childhood. Self-knowledge leads to cure.

7. Ten times each day practice the following affirmation, repeating it out loud if possible, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Repeat those words NOW. That magic statement is the most powerful antidote on earth to inferiority thoughts.

8. Make a true estimate of your own ability, then raise it 10 per cent. Do not become egotistical, but develop a wholesome self-respect. Believe in your own God-released powers.

9. Put yourself in God's hands. To do that simply state, "I am in God's hands." Then believe you are NOW receiving all the power you need. "Feel" it flowing into you. Affirm that "the kingdom of God is within you." (Luke 17:21) in the form of adequate power to meet life's demands.

10. Remind yourself that God is with you and nothing can defeat you. Believe that you now RECEIVE power from Him. Copyright, 1952, by Norman Vincent Peale. Used by permission of Prentice-Hall, Inc.

Catholic Labor Leader Resigns; Scores Policies

ARVIDA, Que. (CP)—Pierre Bouchard today announced his resignation as treasurer of Arvida Aluminum Workers' Syndicate because, he said, policies of the parent Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor involve "frequent strikes" and "perpetual demands for wage increases which lead to nothing since they make prices rise."

Mr. Bouchard, who said he had been connected with the Catholic labor movement in Quebec for 14 years, announced his resignation in a letter to his union which he made public.

He said policies adopted by the CCCL tended to make of the labor movement a system of "constant claims on employers which cultivates a spirit of class struggle" leading to demands on the federal government for socialist legislation.

He said such legislation was the mark of state control "denounced by Popes."

The union official said he personally supported Social Credit principles but discussion of them was banned in Catholic syndicates.

An official of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor declined to comment at Quebec City on Mr. Bouchard's resignation. The official said he would await "full information" from the Arvida union.

A New Tax on Business

THE BENNETT GOVERNMENT is said to be contemplating a new tax on the timber and mineral industries of British Columbia. Such a tax is provided for under the existing financial agreement between the national and provincial governments. It might be popular with a public weary of visible taxes. But would it be economically sound? Would it benefit the public in the end?

The government will have to consider these questions carefully if it is to avoid policies damaging to our great industries and hence to every British Columbian.

In the first place, it must be remembered that the timber and mineral industries must sell their products in a world market which is now becoming more and more competitive. Already our timber industry finds it difficult and in many cases impossible to sell timber products in the British market against the prices offered by Scandinavian countries. Some mineral prices are softening. Anything which raises the cost of producing timber and minerals in British Columbia must undermine the competitive position of our industries still further.

It is true, of course, that a few rich timber and mineral empires in British Columbia are capable of paying higher taxes and taking lower profits; though it must be remembered that a large part of those profits in recent years have been quickly re-invested in the expansion of such industries as the new pulp mills on Vancouver Island, to the benefit of all the people. On the other hand, the smaller timber operations are in a difficult position, they cannot meet any additional costs and in some cases can barely sell in the world market. Higher operating costs will affect many small mining operations in the same way.

Increased taxation at this time would reduce the money available for re-investment by the larger companies and hence the potential employment available in them. If it were large enough, a new tax could cripple some marginal operations on which many workers depend for a living.

It must be remembered also that every business in Canada already pays a tax of approximately half its profits to the federal government. Whenever a tax is levied on any business it tries to hand the cost on to the consumer in prices. At a time of inflation high taxes, aimed at non-essential goods, can be a useful weapon simply because they do raise prices and discourage the demand for goods. That was the reason for the high excise taxes, for example, imposed by the Canadian government during the worst of the post-Korean inflationary period. But now that prices are stable and competition in the market increasingly sharp excessive taxes can do great damage.

In theory the taxes imposed on an exporting industry will not be paid by Canadians but by foreigners through a higher price for their imports. But the foreigner does not have to buy our timber and minerals. He can buy elsewhere. And if our prices are too high he will buy elsewhere.

That is the danger of excessive prices, a danger not confined to a few rich men but to everybody who lives on the affected industries, especially the workers employed in them. It is not too much to say that every British Columbian lives very largely on the timber and mineral industries even if he lives in the city.

By and large the taxes now levied on Canadian business are far too high, as Mr. Abbott has often admitted. In a changing world economy, with competition again strongly at work in the world market, the objective of government should be to reduce taxes on business as soon as possible—taxes which, in the end, are paid by the consumer in prices.

At such a time a provincial government should think beyond the immediate need of revenue, should consider the effects of its taxes on the business, the prosperity and the employment of the province as a whole—especially if the government believes in free enterprise as the Bennett government says it does.

Completing Herod's Work

THE PURGE IN COMMUNIST East Germany continues apace, with dismissals and disappearances now extending from the lower echelons into top rank positions. Foreign Minister Georg Dertinger was arrested this month, the largest fish yet landed, but even he was not expected to occupy first place in the purge trials which are sure to follow.

That honor, reports had it, was to be reserved for Premier Otto Grotewohl. A good deal of the propaganda effect at home will depend on the importance of the figures brought into court, and the premier seems a likely candidate for the role of chief conspirator. The victims of the purge range all the way from complete unknowns in obscure jobs, through better-known figures such as Gerhart Eisler, the propaganda chief who fled from the United States a year ago, to cabinet ministers.

A few months ago all these men were hailed as Communist heroes and idols. The people were exhorted to support them, admire them and emulate them. Today they are being exposed as traitors, spies, enemies of the state of capitalist hirelings.

It is a wonder how they, and their eager successors, could be so readily recruited. It is a greater wonder how the public—the men and women who submit to such a form of "democracy"—continue to stand for it.

But a still more sinister element is seen in the current Communist concentration on racial persecution. Jewish officials throughout Russia and the satellites are being removed, charged with various offenses and deprived of their freedom. There can be no doubt that Stalin is determined to complete the genocide program begun by Hitler—the extermination of Jews in Europe.

Whether by this he hopes to attract the favor of East Germans, or woo the Arabs, or merely remove a segment of society he suspects holds divided allegiance, is not clear. But one of the greatest persecutions since the time of Herod is under way. The rest of the world will take note of the brotherhood of man, communist style.

Reviving Indian Culture

THE APPEARANCE OF NATIVE Indian dancers and singers on a PTA program here recently may mark a revival of interest in culturally important developments in this part of Canada.

The artists, presenting authentic dances and songs, were warmly received. Their performances brought to many members of the audience a first glimpse of tribal customs and traditions among the people who lived on this coast long before the white man.

It is commonly said that the cultural life of the coast Indians is dying out, that it cannot survive in an atmosphere so different from that in which it was born and in which it flourished.

Indian authorities in this community are unwilling to accept that attitude. The restoration work on Thunderbird Park, the attention given to live expression of Indian art in various forms—the production of "Tzinquaw" last year provides one illustration—indicates the interest that can be created in the subject.

Now Indian culture is being taken to districts through the medium of Parent-Teacher Association meetings. It is to be hoped the practice is extended. Whatever the people of Canada's Pacific Coast recognize as important parts of the tradition of their land, that recognition cannot be complete without appreciation for the cultural forms the Indians produced.

The Curtain Hides No Smile

READERS MAY RECALL HAVING seen some time ago a story to the effect that an American sportsman had purchased rights to a one-acre island off the coast of Nova Scotia. His objective was to build a clubhouse there and open it to a group of friends who were devotees of the tuna fishing to be found in waters nearby.

To add a little fun to the proceedings, the owner christened his island Outer Baldonia, declared himself prince of princes in that territory and gave other high-sounding titles to his subjects. All members of the principality were entitled to lie, drink, gamble, brag, stay up all night and otherwise enjoy their fishing holidays. Outer Baldonia looked like a good idea.

It was hardly surprising, however, that the idea did not get across to the Russians. Noting a mention of the Utopia in a German publication, the Communist press seized on this new evidence of capitalist degeneracy. The Literary Gazette of Moscow found a sinister element in the principality.

The leader of the movement had given his subjects "the right not to adhere to the ethical and moral laws which have been established by mankind," the periodical declared. Those involved would become "savages."

It appears that under Communism one must carry on fishing, like politics, entirely without the saving grace of humor. Let there be more principality of Outer Baldonia, and fewer slave states of Inner Siberia.

Chips

BY DAVE BROCK

A COUSIN of mine had a very intelligent dog, even though it answered to the rather unintelligent name of Alberta and never seemed to complain about the name.

I have known quite stupid and unenterprising dogs who would still be quite capable of biting you if you called them Alberta. However, this creature named Alberta had plenty of sense in other directions. My cousin who owned her often said to her sister, "You know, Marianne, that dog understands just about everything you say. So please don't be too critical about her."

Finally Marianne got a little sick of such boasting, and said "Oh, rubbish, Alberta hardly understands a dozen words. I bet even the funny papers are miles over her head." Alberta didn't like this. Neither did her owner, who said "All right, try giving her a simple but unusual command." Marianne said "Certainly, Alberta, go out at once and catch a skunk." Alberta shook her head at such a daft request. Catching skunks is unpleasant work, and can lead to a dog's being banished for days afterwards.

HOWEVER, orders is orders, even from your owner's sister. So she went. Instead of going off into the woods, though, she simply selected the nearest skunk, which happened to be directly under Marianne's bedroom, unknown to Marianne and her sister. Unknown up till that minute, I mean, for they knew about it a few seconds later all right. Marianne knew about it better than anyone, for she had to vacate her bedroom that night and sleep in a chair in the living-room. The whole house smelt, of course, but that bedroom was miles the worst. Luckily for Alberta's feelings, Marianne was quite speechless. But even if she could have spoken, it's unlikely that she could have kept on denying Alberta's grasp of English.

HALF-MEASURES

THE OTHER day I was listening to an American plagiarization of Beatrix Potter's "Peter Rabbit." There are dozens of these literary thefts and mockeries. I mean, there are probably dozens living off Peter Rabbit alone. Even in my own very limited experience I've seen several. This latest was a gramophone record. It was mostly in verse, sung to the tune of "The Happy Farmer" (pinched long ago by "Red Wings"). And it was sung in a horribly cute manner, as coy and arch and generally nasty as you could hope to hear.

It didn't come very close to the real Peter Rabbit. But what annoyed and interested me was to see that the closer it did come to the original, the more objectionable I found it. A really wild departure would have been miles better than meaningless little changes for change's sake. There could (just possibly) be something roilingly cheerful about a huge and fantastic departure from Miss Potter's intentions. The gardener, Mr. McGregor, for example, could be turned into a wicked Sikh called Singh, who grew opium poppies (until the little rabbits tipped the Mounties off).

BUT no, he remains Mr. McGregor. I can't think why. And his speeches stay just close enough to the original to sound terribly wrong. Much wronger than if he had started life anew. It is the piffing dullness of invention in these borrowed versions that appalls me. And the lack of interest in their subject among the thieves authors is rather queer, too. They don't even appreciate which are the good points in the stuff they're stealing. They just assume vaguely that any kid is bound to love it, so they plod wearily on with their rehearsal. It's a little pathetic. It's even more pathetic when some kid does happen to love it, being offered nothing better.

ONCE saw a pirated edition of Peter Rabbit which tossed Miss Potter's pictures out and substituted its own. The woman who drew them was probably trying to give each rabbit a cute expression. But the result was amazing. Each of those rabbits had the sexiest leer you ever saw. It was downright embarrassing.

I KNEW this was an age of leisure (even if we don't know how to employ the stuff). But I hadn't realized we'd got to the stage of using Leisure as a Christian name. When a little girl told me her teacher's name was Leisure Jones, I refused to believe it. So the girl got her report and showed me the woman's signature on it. The signature being Lois R. Jones.

As Our Readers See It

WANTS BREAK

Why do not the newspapers and the old-time politicians give their Social Credit government a fair break?

Why are they so critical of our Social Credit government?

Is it because they fear that Social Credit policies will be so successful that there won't be room for the old-time politicians and the partisan newspapers?

The latest target for the newspapers and the old-time politicians and some of the boys who enjoyed soft jobs and special privileges under the old regime seem to be the changes in the Labor Relations Board. Certainly changes were long overdue on this board because under the permanent full-time Labor Relations Board of the old regime we had industrial chaos.

Look what happened to the industrial relations last spring when British Columbia had an all-time record of strikes and loss of payrolls.

It seems to me that two of the most important basic industries were on strike, lumbering and fisheries. We all remember that the Labor Relations Board did not settle either of them.

It has been noticeable that there has been more labor peace since the Social Credit government took over in August. Yes, I believe the Social Credit government has very good reasons for their changes. More power to them!

Yes, our new Social Credit government has already saved the people of British Columbia millions of dollars since August 1.

Let's give them a fair chance and when they get a majority over all in the Legislature, they will then give the people of this great province the good government they require and a new day will dawn for British Columbia.

CHRISTIANS AWAKE

"Christians Awake" would seem to be the warning expressed by many opinions recently appearing in your paper. It has been good indeed to read these excellent exhortations for the new year.

Here we are a Christian nation, in name at least, blest with the most wonderful gifts from the giver of all good things, and with a guide in all things—God's Holy Word, the Bible—with its un-searchable riches of wisdom, perfection of laws and plan of government; its history of imperishable characters pinned in the person of the perfect man, Jesus Christ.

Now contrast all this with the creed of the Communists. Their religion is the very antithesis of everything we stand for—evil vs. Good. They are sworn to the utter destruction of Christianity by unscrupulously cruel and inhuman methods of their merciless secret police, barbarous tortures, foul oppression and indignities unmentionably vile.

If we professing Christians were one half as consistent and zealous in practicing our faith as are the Communists in propagating their satanic deceptions we could have the Kingdom of God functioning on earth in short order. We have lost much. "Christians Awake!"

ALICE CRESSALL.

GIVES CHOICE

I would like to express to the writers of letters published, and other messages, my great appreciation of their support to my letter "War and Miracles." December 23, demonstrating that God is able, ready and willing to grant us immunity from war on, the following terms:

"Sanctify ye a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry unto the Lord."—Joel 1:14.

In the spirit of 11 Chronicles 7:14. "If My people which are called by My name shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

Well, fellow Canadians, as shrewd judges of business ethics, does this promise by the Prince of Peace (so simple and yet so incredibly tremendous) appeal to you as a sound, bona fide proposition? Or do you prefer the findings and decrees of futile international councils and such institutions as the out-on-its-feet UNO—organizations which have proved such tragic failures? The choice is up to you. "Choose this day whom you will serve."

R. AVERY.
1834 Adanac Street.

Price of Eggheads

Montreal Star

Eggheads, the wonderful new American word for that good old Canadian term "highbrows" can take fresh heat. It may be that they sometimes give value for what they cost us. Consider two items which curiously appeared side by side in The Star the other day.

One set forth the fees and traveling expenses incurred by the Massey Report commissioners: cost, $90,000. The other told how the army at Churchill, Man., pumped 5,000 gallons of gas into a tank of oil, spoiling both: cost, $80,000.

There will be little fuss about the gas and oil. It was just one of those things. But, dearie me, what a fuss there was about spending so much money on the Massey commission, what extravagance, what a waste!

It might be a good idea, however, to persuade the army not to mix gas and oil that way, and thus provide funds (without extra cost to the taxpayers) for much neglected subjects of interest, normally, only to the despised eggheads.

President Finds Nation United In Beliefs

BY WALTER LIPPMAN
From Washington

IT IS noteworthy that the principles, the attitudes and the positions, of the inaugural address are so uncontroversial that it is difficult to remember how recently they were burning issues. The ideas were not always, as they were on Tuesday, the generalities which all the parties and factions of the United States believe in when they think of the nation's problems and duties.

Before 1914 only a very few men had the genius to realize that America was becoming a world power. Even the greatest of them could see only dimly a very little of what was going to mean. From the First World War until the second the commonplaces of the Eisenhower address were hammered out on the anvil of one of the greatest controversies in American history.

They have become the generalities that they are today in the few years since the humiliating disaster at Pearl Harbor. The struggle has been bitter, the sacrifices have been great, there has had to be much blood, sweat and tears before these principles could be absorbed into the undisputed ideas which express the piety and patriotism of the nation.

There could be no doubt, so it seemed to me, for anyone who watched and heard him how ardent is the President's own intimate belief in what he was saying.

LIVING FORCE

He was preaching to a nation, which is in fact converted, with the zeal of a man for whom these ideas have lost none of their living force, for whom these ideas have not become tired and listless with repetition. From this there can come great good—if it is truly understood.

The great good that can come of it rests on the prodigious fact that for all practical political purposes there are no ideological divisions within the nation. There is conflict and diversity of economic interests; there are racial tensions and sectarian differences. But there is no alignment of large masses against other large masses in an irreconcilable struggle.

The conflict abroad, which is indeed, as the President said, "no pallid argument among slightly differing philosophies," is not a conflict within the American nation. It is not now afflicted as are so many lands because this external conflict is at the same time a deep and wide internal conflict. It faces many dangers but that, the greatest danger of them all, does not confront it now.

Internal division is not the condition of America. And that is the only reason why the inaugural address could say what it said without controversy.

But if the general ideas are on the whole accepted by everyone, are so to speak self-evident, quite obviously the policies and measures for applying the general ideas are not self-evident. The people are united on what they hope to achieve. All the hard questions are how to achieve these hopes. This is the controversial field through which President Eisenhower must make his way. It is the field not of what are our aims but of what are the ways and the means.

HOW AND WHAT

This is a difficult field, and if President Eisenhower is tempted, as he might be, to suppose that the problem of the ways and the means can be resolved by reiterating the nobility of the aims, if he yields to the notion that the how can be determined by preaching about the what, he will have trouble.

The hard work of government is not in declaring the grand purposes, indispensable though it is that they should be made clear and kept bright. The hard work is to know and to judge the reality in which these purposes are to be attained.

After twenty years without executive responsibility, an administration can be formed only with much trouble, with much trial and error—and particularly when the government contains so very few men with any experience in national affairs.

There is no reason to doubt that a strong and competent administration is now being formed. But it will take some doing. For it is as yet only half-baked. It will be formed with less trouble if nobody else allows himself to indulge in the rather lazy notion that running a big business and running a big government are the same sort of thing.

The Legend of Alberta

(From a parliamentary speech by George Prudham, minister of mines and Alberta's representative in the federal government.)

It is my observation that the provincial highways in Alberta very closely resemble the Social Credit movement; they have a very expensive top but no solid foundation.

The Social Credit party has busily propagated the idea that there is good government in Alberta. I would say that the reason they have a type of government often referred to as orthodox is that their administration of affairs has been marked by the absence of Social Credit rather than by any application of it.

No fewer than 14 acts of the Alberta Legislature and three bills, which were wisely reserved by the Lieutenant-Governor, have been declared ultra vires since 1933.

The Social Credit schemers were so bold as to entitle one of the acts "An act to provide for the restriction of civil rights of certain persons." And we all know that the infamous "Accurate News and Information Act" would in effect have muzzled the press of the province. So today, when we hear the pious platitudes of the Social Crediters, let honorable members and the people of Canada recall what might have happened to our most cherished freedoms had we in Alberta not been protected by the courts of the land.

TRIBE MUST RAISE $2,000

Chief Must Keep Up Style at Coronation

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Mathias Joe, 66-year-old chief of the Squamish Indians, began "scalping" his tribe for $2,000 today to pay for a trip to Queen Elizabeth's Coronation in London next June.

"She expects me," Joe said, "and I must travel in a style befitting a chief. That'll take money."

The old chief, who said he would go by war canoe if he couldn't raise ship fare, also began dusting off his finest regalia.

Joe went to the Coronations of King Edward VII and King George V and he said he was not going to let down "our Elizabeth."

The chief fingered a letter from the Queen.

"Look at that. She says she would be pleased to have me represent her people of the Squamish tribe."

Elizabeth was made a tribal princess during the Royal tour of 1951.

The chief planned to appear on London streets in a coat of white buckskin, embroidered and fringed; matching white buckskin pants and a headdress of the finest eagle feathers, lavishly decorated with tails of mink and coonskin that dangle down over the ears.

"You think she'll like that?" Joe asked.

He figured the trip would cost him about $2,000.

"It's worth every penny of it," he said.

Joe remembered appearing in a similar outfit in London in 1921, when he was representing British Columbia Indians in a fight over Crown lands. He said he nearly caused a riot.

If the chief makes the trip, he won't be accompanied by a band of dashing braves. Lack of funds scotches that, he said.

"But I may take Andy Paul with me," Paul, also of the Squamish tribe, is well known in British Columbia courts as an interpreter.

Joe's nephew, Simon Baker, did not think much of his uncle's plans.

"But I wouldn't doubt he'll make it," he said. "Trust uncle for getting what he wants."

HELP! HELP!

NAPLES (Reuters)—A motorist stopped Saturday to help what he thought was a man in distress. He got out of his car and walked straight into the embrace of an escaped circus bear. As the bear hugged the screaming motorist, his keepers drove up in the truck from which it had escaped. The animal let its victim go and bolted into the woods.

He Would Welcome Saucers From Space

OTTAWA (CP)—A government teletype operator, J. Ronald Albert, is the rather lonely Canadian representative of an organization that believes in flying saucers. He is sure they come from outer space, and wants to give their occupants a cordial welcome to earth.

The organization is the International Flying Saucer Bureau, whose letterhead boasts a long list of editors of various science, fact and fiction magazines as its international council.

Its motto: "All is possible to one who believes."

"Saucers exist, and I'm sure they come from outer space," says Mr. Albert. He adds that he is somewhat lonely; he has been unable to find any others in Ottawa with the same beliefs.

He also believes the United States Air Force, which has been investigating flying saucers for a few years, knows what they are and is withholding the information, possibly because it is "a little on the terrifying side."

However, the IFSB is prepared to believe the saucer occupants are inclined to be sociable. It hopes they are, endowed with mental telepathy and know of the bureau's friendly states of mind.

Sobs Bring Rescue To Orphaned Waif

Hungry Korean Child Found in Snow; Begged Food Gifts From Soldiers

BY PATRICIA SCOTT

SEOUL (AP) — She was curled up on the snow-swept steps of one of the peddler's shacks by the Seoul post exchange.

The military police making their final rounds of the deserted, icy streets had overlooked her as another tiny shadow in the snow, her sobbing was so soft.

It was 1 a.m. but Sgt. Krenzer of the United Nations civil assistance Korea welfare department, called for a jeep and we returned to the street where my chance late walk had discovered the child.

Sgt. Krenzer laid a hand on the crumpled form. The child whispered something as he lifted her gently into his arms. "Look for her shoes," he said. I felt through the snow and found a tiny pair of Korean slippers.

"What will you do with her?" He held the burly, wrapped bundle close as we struggled over the icy sidewalk toward the jeep.

"If she is sick, I will take her to one of the UNCAK-sponsored hospitals. If she is not sick, I will leave her with an orphanage."

Krenzer slid into the back seat and wrapped his arms around the child to keep her warm.

"Children... children... thousands of children. How long can people continue to ignore them?"

TO ORPHANAGE

He pulled back the shaggy hair and pressed his cheek to her forehead. "She has no fever. I'll take her to Mr. Shim at the Samae orphanage."

Samae is an old temple. Our jeep lights lit up the big "welcome" sign on the gate. A sleepy-eyed, elderly Korean padded barefoot into the snow. Krenzer carried the limp package into Mr. Shim's office and placed her on a bench near a pot-belly stove.

Krenzer massaged the icy limbs, the leathery little hands. As the girl slowly unbed, we were amazed at how tall she really was. Mr. Shim patted her shoulder and tried to raise the bowed head.

"What is your name?" "Paik Chong Soon." The voice was low and frighteningly mature. The voice continued in a broken murmur: "I am thirteen years old."

By Western calculation that meant she was about 11 years. "Where do you come from?" "I come from across the River Han. Two months ago I came to Seoul. I waited on the other side of the river for many months to get across."

Theoretically only those who had jobs in the city could legally return to their homes north of the Han. Thousands have re-entered illegally.

SOFT-HEARTED GUARD

"Did you come across on the ice?" "No, it was before the ice. I kept going to the guards on the bridge, crying. Finally one let me through."

"Do you have any family?" "I have a younger sister. The rest of our family was killed in the war."

"How have you been living in Seoul?"

"In the days I beg from the United Nations soldiers. I have lived on their generous gifts. At night I slept with other children in a deserted building among the free markets, by the west gate. I ate supper yesterday. Krenzer finally managed to raise the buried chin. Mr. Shim smiled and she hid her face again.

"She is a pretty child, isn't she?" he said. With a bath and the hair cut and combed and clean clothes."

Mr. Shim turned to us: "You are very kind. I thank you for bringing her here. I am happy it is tonight for we have an extra ration. We will be able to feed her."

Dentists Warn Against Plan For Direct Denture Supply

The College of Dental Surgeons of B.C. has warned the provincial cabinet of the dangers of allowing dental technicians to make dentures directly for the public.

The Dental Technicians Society will seek this right in a private bill to be introduced at the legislature next month.

Dr. H. M. Cline registrar of the College of Dental Surgeons, presented a brief which said some technicians practicing illegally in B.C. encourage people to believe they have degrees and that, because they do only one thing, they are in fact specialists.

The brief pointed out this "constitutes a serious menace to the health of the people."

"No matter how much it may be disclaimed or how much it may be camouflaged the real intent and purpose of this section of the proposed dental technicians' act is to permit unqualified persons to practice dentistry," he said.

"Lack of adequate knowledge and training may result in the placing of dentures over old infected roots, abscesses, cysts and other pathological conditions, while superfluous soft tissues that should be removed would be left in place because of lack of knowledge for diagnosis."

"These conditions are a very common occurrence, in fact they may be said to be a part of everyday practice, yet many of them, perhaps most of them, are fairly obscure and not readily recognizable, except at one skilled to do so," it was argued.

For dental technicians to pretend to this ability to diagnose is hypocritical, the brief said.

Legal Impasse Holds Up Civic Cheques

Council Approval Is a 'Must'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lower mainland municipal authorities face a legal impasse.

It resulted from the report of Commissioner D. E. McTaggart who investigated municipal affairs in North Vancouver.

He found that municipal cheques had been issued without proper council approval, and now:

Welfare cases will not get their cheques in North Vancouver this week; salary cheques may also be delayed; Richmond municipality may not be able to pay salary cheques on schedule, and Port Coquitlam fears it is heading into the same legal tangle.

The situation won't be clarified until council meetings are held. North Vancouver has scheduled one for tonight.

"Under the rigid rules of the Municipal Act I am now responsible and I refuse to take any more chances of being the object of a probe," said Mayor Frank Goldsworthy of North Vancouver.

"I have no other recourse but to hold up the payroll and all welfare payments until a regular meeting of council."

Some municipalities have been issuing cheques semi-monthly to meet payrolls, and then having payment approved at the next council meeting. But this is not in accordance with the Municipal Act.

"The council will re-examine its position just to be sure," said a civic spokesman.

Representatives of lower mainland municipalities will meet in New Westminster Wednesday and the Reeves may seek some such method as West Vancouver in handling their civic finances.

B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, didn't appear perturbed by the situation.

"The municipalities have been operating for 40 or 50 years and I'm sure they are not going to stop now," he said. "But it is up to them to see that they run their affairs properly, efficiently and in accord with the Municipal Act."

WORK SYNCHRONIZED

'Cobblecraftsmen' Now Simplify Shoe Repairing

No longer must a shoemaker be a jack-of-all-trades.

At Spotless the "Cobblecraftsmen" each have specialized duties. It is the foreman's duty to minutely examine every pair of shoes before work is begun to determine what the shoes require, and where the work shall be allocated.

Exactly what soles and what heels should be supplied for the shoes, so that in the end, when the shoes are given back to the customer they will not look just repaired, but shall look the part of having been serviced by a "Cobblecraftsman."

As an example, the "Cobblecraft" shoe repair plant at Spotless has a battery of benchmen, whose duty it is to prepare the shoes for lasting operations, and other subsequent work. Spotless also has men whose sole duty it is to do stitching work on a battery of specially set stitching machines, each for a different thickness of soles.

Added to this are a series of rubber sole applying machines, handled by men who know exactly how best to apply rubber soles for each type of shoe.

Edgemen, skiving men, and finishers—each play their specialized part in providing the customer with a shoe repair job that is a marvel of efficiency.

Spotless is also the first to introduce the invisible half sole method.

It is now possible to have half soles applied where full soles are not required, and yet it is almost impossible for the naked eye to detect the half-sole job.

Only Spotless with its vast buying power, could buy the quantities of leather soles and leather heels that are necessary in order that top-flight leather at all times should be supplied to its customers, without having to pay premium prices.

Thirty-thousand pairs of the finest grained Ash-Flex select leather soles were purchased by Spotless at eastern tanneries and brought to Spotless through the Panama Canal recently.

Edgemen, skiving men, and finishers—each play their specialized part in providing the customer with a shoe repair job that is a marvel of efficiency.

The shoes are transported from station to station by specially constructed devices which minimize handling and thereby reduce costs. To see the plant in operation is to appreciate its efficiency, says the Spotless management.

The One Price Policy Holds Sway at Spotless

The one-price policy which has held sway at Spotless for many years, is also extended to the Shoe Repair Division.

It is a remarkable achievement that Spotless has been able to offer its fine shoe repair services without any variations in pricing.

One price for any pair of shoes—no matter whether they are thick or thin, work shoes, walking shoes, or dress shoes—there is only one price at Spotless, and that price is the advertised price. There is no variation from it, says a Spotless spokesman.

ROSE DEFEATS SEIXAS IN AUSSIE NET FINAL

ADELAIDE (AP)—Lefty Mervyn Rose of Australia defeated Vic Seixas of Philadelphia 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 2-6, 11-9, today to win the South Australian tennis championship.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., won the women's singles title, defeating Julie Sampson of San Marino, Calif., 6-3, 6-2.

Seixas took a 7-6 lead in the fifth set by breaking Rose in the 13th game. But from deuce in the next game, Rose tied it up 7-7. He gained the advantage by smacking one down the sideline, then pulled even in games with a neat passing shot.

They fought hard until the 20th game, when Rose crashed through Seixas to wrap it up.

MCCORMICK IN SQUASH SEMIS

PORTLAND (CP)—Two British Columbia men have entered the semifinals of the Pacific coast squash racket championships here.

Clean Sweep For Duncan Sport Units

DUNCAN—Local athletes had a 100 per cent successful week end.

Friday night four basketball teams of Lake Cowichan High School boys and girls took four straight games from Ladysmith High School in the local gym.

Saturday night Duncan senior B men's and women's teams took two close decisions from Courtenay senior teams. The women's game was a 43-37 victory for Duncan, while the men's squad won 44-39.

On Sunday the fourth-place Seven-Ups scored a decisive 61-11 win over the league-leading Youbou Bruins in a V.I. suburban hockey league fixture in Nanaimo.

The Bruins only averted a shutout in the last 45 seconds of play when they pulled their goalie for a sixth forward.

Williams, Hunt Take Junior Golf Buttons

Warren Williams and Bob Hunt of Uplands Country defeated Don and Mel Carlow of Gorge Vale, 4 and 3, at Colwood to take the city junior golf buttons.

City Senior B Hoop Semis Open Tonight

Jack Sim waited almost a whole game to get his first point for Arrow Furniture Saturday night, but when he finally did find the hoop, he gave Arrow Furniture the Senior B Men's Basketball League championship.

Sim's last-second field goal, his only points in the game, wiped away a one-point deficit and gave Arrows a thrilling 38-37 win over Butler's Aces, in the final game of the season.

Arrows who finished with seven victories in eight starts, will meet Chinese Students tonight at Victoria Night School in the league semifinals while Aces tangle with Veterans of France in the other semifinal bracket.

The Arrow-Students clash will be the feature of a three-game card with Aces and Vets tangle in the middle game and St. Louis College and Vampire juvenile boys supplying the preliminary at 7.

Sims' game winning points were the climax of a game-long rally by Arrows as Aces led 10-5 at the end of the first quarter, 17-14 at the half and

Club Competitions Unbalanced

The revival of the Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League is regarded by officials as a "successful experiment."

The parsimonious use of adjectives in this regard is not a reflection upon the enthusiasm of the officials but an indication that they are soberly aware of the problems that have manifested themselves during the current season.

Unwittingly, the larger clubs have been instrumental in creating the No. 1 problem, and since the V.L.B. and B. is the largest in the league, a proportionate percentage of blame must be absorbed by it.

The problem is one of providing fair competition between the clubs.

As a general rule, the bigger clubs, having greater

WHITEY SEVERSON

On hot bricks for two weeks, Whitey Severson, together with Alex Macdonald and Earl Pollock, will be burning up the long-distance telephone lines as they attempt to secure definite proof of the strength of their Foul Bay club before the Inter-city Lacrosse League will consider their application for a league franchise. Severson and his cohorts were given the ultimatum that definite proof of imports must be given league headquarters within two weeks.

NEIL STANDLEY

In a desperate attempt to haul down Victoria Merchants' ace sniper Toby Brown, Neil Standley of Navy will be gunning for points tonight when Navy meets Merchants in the curtain-raiser of a two-game Commercial Hockey League card at Memorial Arena. Standley, who scored four points in his last game, trails Brown by four points in the scoring derby.

JIMMY CLARK

In the limelight, although baseball season is several months away, is Victoria Tyee shortstop Jimmy Clark. Picked on the WIL all-star team last year, Clark has been the centre of trade and sale rumors recently. However, it is not likely he will be sold until he receives a try-out with the PCHL Portland Beavers this spring.

Cougars Bow to Royals; Canucks in League Lead

Seattle 8, Tacoma 4; New Westminster 4, Victoria 2
Vancouver 5, Saskatoon 3; Tacoma 2, Seattle 1
Calgary 8, Edmonton 2

A good touring club and a good home club made changes in the Western Hockey League standings during the week-end, while Victoria Cougars stood still.

Vancouver Canucks traveled to Saskatoon to take over the league leadership by defeating Quakers 5-3 Saturday.

And Seattle's home-loving Bombers blasted Tacoma Rockets 8-4 Sunday to make up for a 2-1 defeat by Rockets Saturday and go into a third-place tie with Calgary Stampeders.

In other Saturday games Calgary walloped Edmonton Flyers 8-2 in Calgary and New Westminster Royals downed Victoria Cougars 4-2 at New Westminster.

Vancouver, the best touring club in the league, likes 5-3 for a score. Canucks used it three times to win games on their prairie trip and go two points ahead of Quakers.

Vancouver goalie Emile Francis proved his worth in the last period of the Saskatoon game. Quakers pulled goalie Bev Bentley and put in a six-man forward line but were unable to add to the three goals they got in the first and second periods.

Walt Alanas fired the puck into an empty goal in the third for Vancouver. Jack Lancelotti, Larry Popen, Freddie Brown and Ian Mackintosh got the other Vancouver goals. Cy Rouse, Jim Ross and Jackie McLeod were the Saskatoon point getters.

Seattle's victory Sunday made its record 16 home games without a defeat—not far behind Victoria's record 19 home games without a loss.

George Homenuke and Doug Macauley got a pair of goals apiece for Seattle and Joe Conn, Lorne Nadeau, Cal Stearns and Gerry Foley scored one each. Doug Adam got two goals within the first 10 minutes for Tacoma and Gordie Kerr and Barton Bradley added the others.

On Saturday Wayne Brown and Bart Bradley scored Tacoma's winning goals and George Pargeter got Seattle's single.

New Westminster Royals won their first game in six tries when they trounced the Cougars. Royals led through-out, Max McNab scoring a hat trick and Ollie Dorohoy scoring the other goal.

Bernie Strongman and Stan Maxwell scored Victoria's counters. Defeat left the Cougars five points behind the Royals.

IRWIN INJURED
Cougar Defenseman Ivan Irwin was injured in the second period receiving a stick cut across his nose and eye. He was taken to hospital and needed several stitches to close the wound. It is not known if he or Stan Long, who reinjured his troublesome back, will play at Tacoma Tuesday night.

Saanich Cagers Measure Sooke
Saanichton had a big night at the expense of Sooke basketball teams Saturday at Saanichton Agricultural Hall.

Host teams copped three out of the four scheduled games in Saanich and Suburban Basketball League action.

Saanichton Copley Bros. scored a 32-18 victory over Sooke juvenile boys in the feature game of the night.

The other three games saw Saanichton Cagers and Peden down Sooke biddy boys 53-4; Sooke midget boys nip Saanichton 17-16, and Saanichton Copley Bros. bantam girls best Sooke 23-17 in overtime.

Combines Score Upset Victory

Victoria Combines romped to a 3-1 victory over Tillucums Sunday in a junior division soccer match of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association to take over sole possession of first place.

The teams fought to a scoreless deadlock at the half. Combines then put on the power and were rewarded when Jack Elevation, Ken Barnes and Tom Rimmer came through for markers. George Wright scored Tillucums' only goal.

Victoria College turned in their best game of the season to down Punjab United 6-1 in an exhibition junior contest. All the College forwards figured in the scoring.

VETS BLANK SIDNEY

In the first division, Army, Navy and Air Force Vets came up with a sparkling 9-0 blanking over Sidney Teen Town. Vets led 4-0 at the half and added five goals in the final frame. Garry Crowe and Bill Abbott each netted a hat trick while Jim McGhee scored two and Harry Nicolson a singleton.

W. C. Cryer, president of the veterans' club, presented all members of the team, including manager Jimmy Allen and team mascot Chris Allen with blazers from the sponsors.

Harris Cycles and Eagles battled to a 2-2 draw in the only other first-division contest. Jack Harding accounted for the birdmen tallies while Keith Todd did the same for Cycles.

Eagles took over sole possession of top spot in the second division by blanking Delta Blues 1-0. Russ West notched the only goal.

GAIN SECOND PLACE

In Saturday games, Combine Free Wees edged Eagles 3-2 to gain a second-place tie with Eagles in the third division. Bob Harman, Jim Watson and Martin Kenny scored for Combines while Fritz Hanson and John Hanson did the chores for Eagles.

Eagles took a 1-0 victory from Black and White Tadi in the fourth division when Terry Jones scored just before time while Shepherd's Dairy and Eagles battled to a scoreless draw in the fifth division.

Thunderbirds Retain Hope

VANCOUVER — Varsity Thunderbirds kept alive their hopes of finishing in a first-place tie with Vancouver Reps in the McKechnie Cup competition Saturday by trimming Northwest, 15-11, in one of the best games of the series.

However, Victoria Crimson Tide can stop the Thunderbirds' bid of catching Vancouver Reps and forcing a playoff for the silverware. Tide meets UBC in the final game of the series on February 7 at UBC stadium and a tie or victory for Victoria will give Vancouver the trophy, won last year by Varsity.

Firefighters Defeat Scots

NEW WESTMINSTER — Firefighters climbed into a fifth-place tie with Vancouver City in the coast Soccer League Saturday by edging St. Andrews, 2-1, at Queen's Park in the only scheduled match.

HOLE-IN-ONE OR LONGEST GOLF PUTT ON RECORD

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Cameron Mitchell qualified for the hole-in-one club Saturday with what he thinks must be the longest putt on record—576 feet.

Mitchell was golfing at the Fox Hills course and "not doing too well."

Members of his foursome started kidding him and on the 192-yard 15th hole someone remarked: "Try the putter. You can't do any worse with it."

Cameron did.

The ball went half way on the fly, then bounced a few times and rolled into the cup.

The ace didn't help the actor's score much, however. He shot an 86.

WATCH YOUR FEET! (PART 2)

Sloppy footwork spoils a lot of shots, particularly in the case of curlers who use a fairly high backswing. The rock and the left foot occasionally collide with each other as they slide forward together at the end of the delivery motion. Perfect timing is necessary to synchronize the two motions and hours of practice are required to perfect them. With the true slider, the stone and the left foot never collide after the rock reaches the ice, because the stone is always ahead of the left foot. Sometimes the stone will bump against the left foot if you are off balance, and the left leg is thrown forward too soon as a result of it.

However, if you tend to set the stone down on the ice with the idea of riding on it, you'll have lots of leg-bumping trouble. Swing your stone (on the forward swing) well out ahead of you, and you will seldom have foot trouble. When you swing your left leg forward with the stone, the shoe will be flat on the ice, but as you reach forward with your right arm and lower your body closer to the ice, your left knee will bend sideways to the left. This will raise your left heel off the ice and you complete your slide riding on the ball of your left foot.

Now, back to the hack again to take a look at the right foot. Remember the toe of the right foot in the hack should be pointing straight up the ice or at worst, very slightly to the right. Be sure you are solid in the hack. The only thing left to remember about the right foot from here on is to be conscious after you push off from the hack that the right leg and foot are stretched out straight back behind you. Only by being conscious of this will you be right on the broom with your body as well as your mind.

Normal Cagers Split

Victoria's Inter-Scholastic basketball champions, Normal School, made an even split of two games when they journeyed to Cumberland over the week-end, in a warm-up in preparation for the invasion of Vancouver Normal School early in March.

On Friday night their opponents were the senior B Jokers and on Saturday the intermediate A Merchants provided the opposition.

In the first game the travel-weary visitors got off to a slow start and found themselves entering the fourth quarter with a 14-point deficit. A strong rally, however, was cut

Bays, University Win

The two top teams in the second division of the Victoria Rugby Union, JBAA and University School, opened up their leads over the runners-up Saturday with convincing victories.

For the fourth time the league-leading Bays met the winless Wanderers-Crusaders and for the fourth time downed the cellar-dwellers. This time the losers played their best game of the season and held the oarsmen to their lowest score of the campaign before bowing 8-3.

The powerful University School fifteen chalked up its fourth shutout of the season, a 25-0 decision over the third-place Victoria College entry, to keep pace with the Bays.

The private school has only had 12 points scored against it

McLeary Lone City Fight Winner, Takes 'Best Junior Boxer' Award

Local boxers could pick up only one victory and one draw out of six inter-city boxing matches on the Victoria Amateur Boxing Association nine-bout card Saturday night at the Britannia Hall.

However, the record doesn't tell the complete story. All the hometown boys put up stiff battles against their more seasoned visitors.

Bruce McLeary of Victoria Fire Department picked up the only victory by scoring a second-round TKO over Buddy Crabbe of Chemainus. The bout was the only one of the night that did not go the full distance. McLeary also was judged the best junior fighter on the card.

Judges ruled the best bout of the evening was the one between Wayne Robertson of Fire Department and Bob Golby of Burnaby Lions boxing club, which ended in a draw.

Golby had a considerable height and reach advantage over Robertson but the game

Wanderers Take Rugby Lead; Bays Stop Navy

Play in the First Division of the Victoria Rugby Union Saturday took the form of three exhibitions and a quick in scheduling allowed Oak Bay Wanderers to regain the league lead which they lost to JBAA two months ago.

Oak Bay was scheduled to face Crusaders in a league match at Windsor Park but Crusaders were unable to field a full squad and were forced to default.

After Wanderers allowed the Knights the use of several players the two teams faced off in an exhibition which Oak Bay won 9-5.

Due to JBAA's virtual bye Wanderers found themselves in possession of a one-point lead in the standings, but also—and more important — is the fact that they now have played three more contests than the runner-up Oarsmen.

Bays, facing the newcomer Navy 15, handily slapped them down 23-5 in an exhibition match at the Colville Road pitch.

Victoria College's first division squad also experienced little difficulty as they downed a much lighter and younger University School squad 26-0 in a non-league game on the latter's field.

CRUSADERS HIT BOTTOM

In the feature contest at Windsor Park the once all-powerful Crusaders finally hit the bottom rung of the ladder. Last season the knights' armor was bright; they were the scourge of the league, finishing the schedule undefeated, and had an excess of talent from which to pick a team.

Now the gloss is almost negligible as the knights have a 25 per cent perfect record and have difficulty in fielding a full team. Their former stars have either left the city or are injured and replacements are nil whenever their second-division squad or University School are also playing.

The smooth functioning Oak Bay 15 coasted along on first half tries by wing Jim Kennett and forward Lorne MacDonald and a second half marker by the ever-reliable Jim Mills.

Tom Ballard gained Crusaders' lone try and Bob Shipley accurately parted the posts with his convert to soften the defeat.

The Colville Road exhibition was again a demonstration of the two points that make JBAA the best team in the city.

PNYN'S FOOT HOT

The prolific kicking foot of Gary Pynn, who was changed from the three-line to scrum-half, accounted for 14 points on four penalties and one conversion. Pynn thus raised his average to seven points a game on kicks, enough to give most teams a winning margin.

New York Off Fraction In Slow Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market quietly gave ground today without generating undue selling emphasis in any action. The decline extended to most one and two points at best. Gains were small and scattered.

Lower stocks included Pennsylvania Railroad, Gulf Oil, Celotex, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, American Can, Woolworth and Zenith Radio.

Canadian issues were mixed. Dome Mines and International Nickel each dropped 1/4. Canadian Pacific slipped 1/4. Distillers Seagram remained unchanged. Hiram Walker was up 1/4 and McIntyre was 1/4.

On the American stock exchange, Lake Shore and Giant Yellowknife were unchanged. Royalite Oil was not quoted.

Toronto Dips Slightly In Brisk Trade

TORONTO (CP) — Prices slipped slightly in brisk trading today toward the stock market's close.

Industrials showed a small loss on the exchange index. Western oils lost more than a point. Base metals held a gain of more than half an index point. Golds continued moderately higher.

New Larder U led the gains in the active low-priced issues, moving more than 350,000 shares to gain 40 cents. Bobjo traded about 500,000 for a fractional gain.

Senior golds were mixed and junior producers followed. Foods led the losses in industrials.

A few western oils made good gains although most issues slipped. Calmont led the losses while Britalia, National and Ponder gained.

In base metals Estrella, Steep Rock, Rix and United Keno rose.

Montreal Higher, Turnover Light

MONTREAL (CP) — Stock prices continued irregularly higher today on the stock market. Trade was dull.

A weak feature was Canadian Car, slipping 1 1/2 points to 15 1/2. Other movements were held to fractions.

Canadian Celanese, Southern Canada Power, Walker, International Nickel, Imperial Oil and Royal Bank acquired plus signs.

New Larder was up 40 cents, Casadur 20 and Steep Rock 15 to 20 mines irregularly higher.

Western oils were mixed in a narrow range. Del Rio, National Petroleum and Okalta improved.

Vancouver Strong

VANCOUVER (Noon) — Prices trended higher in active trading at Vancouver Exchange in the early session today.

Investment interest in base metals was keen and western oil shares also attracted support. Industrials were stronger.

London Gains

But markets were reasonably cheerful all through. Government securities went ahead in early trading with fractional gains widespread.

There was little interest in industrials, however. Movements were narrow and irregular.

TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS Trust Firms Promote Big Business Deals

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

Far from being dull, operations of Canada's trust companies involve many of the country's most dramatic business and industrial developments.

Officers of Canada Permanent Trust Co. enabled the firm to boost its net revenue.

He estimates that taxes on the 1952 profits of Canada Permanent were 27 per cent higher than during Second World War.

Summary of recent lengthy discussions on the dollar price of gold is contained in the current monthly review of Green-shields & Co., Montreal investment house. The review concludes that while "there is very little likelihood at this time of a revaluation, the interest in gold stocks rests in the fact that a decrease in price is even more unlikely."

Rumor persists in Canadian retail circles that Montgomery Ward, giant Chicago merchandising house, plans to invade the Canadian market. Growth possibilities here are reported luring the big retailers.

Evergreen Play Ground Association will continue to promote the tourist trade for the Pacific Northwest, reports G. I. Warren, Victoria Publicity Commissioner.

Back from an executive meeting of the group at Vancouver, Mr. Warren said plans are well in hand for start on promotional activities aimed at developing a larger tourist trade for the area in the coming season.

Immediate formation of a Motor Carrier Board to administer the B.C. Motor Carrier Act is being urged by provincial representatives of the motor transport industry.

Such a body would co-ordinate control over bus and truck operations on B.C. highways, it is felt, and would promote the public interest in effective regulation of the highway traffic services.

Working capital totaled $102,597.57 in 1952 compared with $88,441,051 with reserves at $23,489,791 compared to $21,684,047.

Earned surplus rose from $40,824,637 in 1951 to $46,714,320 and total assets from $148,097,670 to $162,357,710.

Total North American sales for 1952 increased 13.9 per cent and consisted of $180,707,289 in plant sales and $44,009,255 in defense business as compared with regular sales of $197,362,551 and no defense business the year before. World-wide sales rose $114,691 over the previous year to the all-time high of $293,023,047.

In explaining the reduction in profits, James S. Duncan, chairman and president, said in the annual report there was a lower volume of implement sales in the United States, a smaller margin on defense work and increased costs.

The utilities are paying $8,520,103 this month, against $7,827,118 last year and $6,367,249 in 1951.

The increase over 1952 is due largely to the greater disbursement by Bell Telephone Company as a result of having issued more stock through subscription rights.

With Traders Finance Corporation raising the quarterly dividend and paying an extra on its Class "A" and "B" shares, disbursements by institutions, trusts, etc., total $2,907,926, an increase from $2,736,513 in January, 1952.

Massey-Harris Reports Net Profits Down

TORONTO (CP) — Massey-Harris Co. Ltd. reports a net profit for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1952, of $12,493,600, a drop of $2,885,121 from the $15,378,721 in the previous year.

Net profit per share declined from $2 to $1.62.

Net sales amounted to $224,806,504 compared with $197,363,551 for 1951. Costs rose from $139,265,217 last year to $193,678,115 in 1952.

Working capital totaled $102,597.57 in 1952 compared with $88,441,051 with reserves at $23,489,791 compared to $21,684,047.

Earned surplus rose from $40,824,637 in 1951 to $46,714,320 and total assets from $148,097,670 to $162,357,710.

Total North American sales for 1952 increased 13.9 per cent and consisted of $180,707,289 in plant sales and $44,009,255 in defense business as compared with regular sales of $197,362,551 and no defense business the year before. World-wide sales rose $114,691 over the previous year to the all-time high of $293,023,047.

In explaining the reduction in profits, James S. Duncan, chairman and president, said in the annual report there was a lower volume of implement sales in the United States, a smaller margin on defense work and increased costs.

The utilities are paying $8,520,103 this month, against $7,827,118 last year and $6,367,249 in 1951.

The increase over 1952 is due largely to the greater disbursement by Bell Telephone Company as a result of having issued more stock through subscription rights.

With Traders Finance Corporation raising the quarterly dividend and paying an extra on its Class "A" and "B" shares, disbursements by institutions, trusts, etc., total $2,907,926, an increase from $2,736,513 in January, 1952.

Scots, by Their Own Admission, Salt of Earth—And Prove It

BY TOM "MAC" MERRIMAN

Reviewing a few notes today, taken at the Victoria Burns Club dinner at Loughheed's Banquet Hall Saturday night, here are a few impressions of Scots gathered for nearly four hours of eating, singing, speechmaking and convivial conversation.

1. Scots, by their own admission, are the salt of the earth and an asset to any country they chose to settle in; they have convincing historical evidence to prove it, especially as far as Canada is concerned.

2. The dour, gloomy, austere Scotch parson of fiction is a myth. Though they sternly point the path of duty they are leaders in social amenities, natural-born orators and after-dinner speakers and have a repertoire of jokes that would confound Jack Benny.

3. Loyal as Scots become to the land of their adoption, nothing in the world will override their affection for the land of their birth.

4. Every country in which they have settled has benefited from the Scottish culture, knowledge, industriousness, thrift and tradition the Scots have taken there. For this, too, they are armed with proof.

5. Robert Burns' deeply moving human poems of the common people have prompted, if not inspired, a great deal of the social legislation which today is making brighter the lives of such people as the hard loved and wrote about.

6. Few Scots really love haggis. Some hate it.

7. Piping is hereditary. It's more than the national music of Scotland to bagpipers. It's a religion. Piping is music played on God's chosen instrument. It seems into the soul; has won as many wars as anybody ever told about and probably more. A nation with sufficient pipers can rule the world. By playing his pipes a piper can cure his own common domestic ailments, like the flu or toothache.

8. Scots are generous and hospitable. The idea of Scots being "close" comes only from their dislike of waste.

9. Scots don't drink Scotch at Scots' banquets. They can drink more toasts on one glass of cordial than the people of any other nation in the world.

10. Scotch oratory is never extemporaneous, but it is all the better for that. Even a minor 10-minute toast comes out as a skillfully prepared masterpiece well worth listening to.

11. For rhetoric and oratory to encompass the whole range of public speaking, Scottish ministers are second to none in the world.

PIPING IN THE HAGGIS
I had a seat near the kitchen and was in a good spot to get the full dose on the piping in the haggis ceremony.
Piper Donald Graham, husky, broad-shouldered Mr. Two-by-

Four of a Scot, tuned up and then swung into a sprightly air as he stood near the kitchen. Nothing happened.
He stopped blowing for a second.

"What's happening? Where the hell's the haggis?" he said. But at that moment the haggis bearer, stepped out with the doings and the grand parade to the head table was on.

It was placed before Rev. T. MacAllister. He looked at it dramatically; said a lot of impressive words in a foreign language; then plunged a knife into it.

The piper, back at the table, was the first man they started to serve.

I don't know if this should be in the paper or not but his reaction was:
"Take that damn stuff away I wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot pole."

Surely that's blasphemy, sacrilege, treason or something; but there are witnesses. Many asked for small helpings.

Personal opinion: Haggis is O.K. I wish I could have got more.

SILVER-TONGUED
Then came speechmaking, under direction of the president, quick-witted silver-tongued Harry Wood.

You can't write much about the speeches and do them justice. The carefully prepared rich-flowing phrases would be spoiled by condensation.

Sheriff Duncan MacBride made a neat job of "Land of Our Adoption."

Harry L. Smith, principal of Victoria High, made a neat reply. It was learned, humorous, had quotations from Byron, Pope and Burns, some comparisons, and won a terrific round of applause.

Alec Allnut proposed "Her Majesty's Canadian Forces." Capt. D. J. Proudfoot was right at home with the reply; recalled his old days of soldiering with the Camerons.

Some of the audience looked a little shocked but the delayed roar of laughter after a camp follower's story was justly taken as the green light for the captain to tell more.

TOP FLIGHT ORATORY
Highlight of the evening was, of course, the toast to the "Immortal Memory."

"We're lucky to have got Rev. William Allan for that job," Piper Graham whispered to me. He was right.

The speaker brought laughter and tears by his eloquence and Scots are not noted for being demonstrative. Burns wasn't a profound thinker, he said, but a pioneer in philosophy. He was the most inspired poet of all time.

MAN IN BED SPOTS HOSPITAL VISITORS AS HIS ASSAILANTS

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Two youths who visited a friend in hospital Sunday were arrested a few minutes later on a charge of beating and robbing Thomas Kelly, 31.

Kelly happened to be in a bed across the aisle from the friend. He recognized the youths from behind his bandages.

Kelly suffered what police described as a terrific beating from four youths Saturday night. He was robbed of $109.

REAL CONUNDRUM

CHICAGO (AP)—Police are pondering the answer to this one: A man turned in a woman's artificial leg, in good working order, complete with shoulder and waist straps, nylon stocking and size 5½ oxford. It was found in a vacant lot.

Canada has great stands of timber in forest covering more than 1,000,000 square miles.

Japanese Propose To Cut Alaskan Timber

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Oregon member of Congress today lodged with State Secretary Foster Dulles a strongly-worded protest against a Japanese proposal to cut lumber in Alaskan forests.

Representative Walter Norblad (Rep., Ore.), made public a letter in which he told Dulles "It would be improper to allow a government of any country to set up and establish such operations in the U.S. or its possessions, and it would be setting a definite precedent toward possible Japanese utilization of the Tongass forests in southeast Alaska were held here last October."

Conferences between representatives of the Japanese timber industry and U.S. government officials looking forward to about 80 per cent of Canada's total salt production comes from Ontario.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Mr. Erskine Caldwell is to be congratulated on the fact that Vancouver is attempting to usurp Toronto's title of "The Good."

A great many people who had never heard of "Tobacco Road" will now know the names of the picture houses, and theatres in a effort to see what all the censoring is about.

The least Mr. Caldwell could do, while in Vancouver, is tender a testimonial dinner to the morality squad.

The citizens who contributed to Saturday's "What's Your Opinion?" were divided on whether or not they could depend on Bill Mackie's weather forecasts.

I believe Bill could win a unanimous vote of confidence if he would make his daily forecast read "rain" every day.

His batting average would be bound to improve.

As the Currie report continues to dominate current Canadian politics, some observers believe that the government intends to go through all military establishments with a fine tooth comb.

A currycomb, in fact.

The book review page deals with a volume written by Rebecca Reynier, called "The Fon and His Hundred Wives." The review states that the author takes issue with a UN mission report that the 100 wives of a West African chieftain (Fon) were content with their situation.

I am inclined to think the author must be "Miss" Reynier, not "Mrs." Reynier.

Otherwise she would know that not even a solo wife is "content with her situation."

For that matter, do you suppose the West African Chieftain is satisfied with HIS situation?

Can't you imagine the chorus of voices which would fill the air after the Chief has been sitting up with a sick friend?

It is had enough to have ONE wife demand "where have you been at this hour of the night?"—but multiplied 100 times.

Not much Fon, eh, Chief?

From the always educational Right and Wrong department:

You can't teach your dog not to jump up on your guests. "WRONG": Explain each time that you have tried to teach him not to jump on guests but haven't been able to.

"RIGHT": Keep him away from your guests.

The dog Punch says he has a better idea.

Do not have guests.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Three Victoria hunters were marooned on Discovery Island Sunday night.

Jerry Maxwell, Charlie Gullet and Bill Johnston "stayed put" when strong winds whipped the straits and made their 10-foot inboard boat much smaller than it was.

They had gone to the island to shoot geese, planning to return in the evening.

The trio spent the night in the open and were unable to light a fire because of the wetness of wood and matches. Fears for their safety were dispelled this morning when smoother water allowed their return.

City police have charge of a quantity of costume jewelry, worth about $25, which was found by Robert Lowe, 305 Gorge Road West, and Louis Plane, workmen engaged in moving logs under Point Ellice Bridge Saturday. The "gems" had been buried in the mud. They can be claimed if the owner can identify them.

Thieves who broke into the Metropolis Billiard Parlors, 1305 Broad, Saturday night got $45 by prying open two pin-ball machines. They also stole some packages of cigarettes. Police reported. An unsuccessful attempt had been made to break open the cash register. Entry was gained by breaking a window.

Involved in a collision with a gas pump and a "stop-while-occupied" sign Dec. 23 on Douglas Street north of the Roundabout, Roy K. Bates, 3215 Wascana, was fined $40 in city police court today. He pleaded guilty to careless driving.

His license was suspended. Police estimated damage to the pump, which was broken off, the car and sign would reach $710.

A fine of $25 and $3.50 costs were imposed against Thomas Kirk Lockley Road, when he pleaded guilty in RCMP court at Colwood Saturday to a charge of failing to pay an employee wages at least semi-monthly.

Attorney-General's Critic

Headwaiter at Esquimalt Tudor House, James Thirlwall, has asked Attorney-General Robert Bonner and B.C. liquor inquiry chairman, H. H. Stevens, P.C., to come to see for themselves the havoc wrought by the one-glass-at-a-time order given beer servers. "I'll buy the beer," he said, "if they'll come out and see how silly it is." For one thing it means twice as much walking for waiters. He is secretary of the local Beverage Dispensers' Union. Here, Thirlwall looks disconsolately at the causes of his complaint: The single glass order and the feet that deliver it.

Driver and Passenger Hurt as Car Wrecked

Rolling Machine Hurls One to Road In Early Morning Malahat Crash

A 1937 model car was totally wrecked and the driver and passenger injured in a crash on the Island Highway two miles south of Mill Bay about 4 a.m. Sunday.

Suffering from a fractured ankle and other injuries was the driver, Clifford Clarke, 840 Bay Street. Passenger Don Martin, 2875 Gorge View, suffered less serious injuries.

Clarke was reported in good condition at King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan. Martin was released after treatment.

RCMP report the Clarke car, proceeding toward Duncan, appeared to be out of control, careened into a ditch, rolled over and finished up against an embankment. Clarke was thrown out of the car.

Sgt. Robert Smith of Oak Bay police, driving along the same stretch, came upon the accident scene and called RCMP for an ambulance.

Police of the other areas of Victoria and district reported a "fairly quiet" week-end.

Parked Vehicles Looted by Thieves

Car raiders were active in the city over the week-end. A variety of articles was stolen from parked vehicles, police reported.

A. O. Crowther, 3071 Shelbourne, told police two chrome wheel discs were stolen from his car.

A flashlight was all thieves took from a car owned by M. R. Gardiner, 421 Wilson.

A $15 lighter, gear shift knob and fender aerials were stolen from the vehicle of R. Wright, 937 Johnson.

George Settle, Alberni, reported a $40 camera in a leather bag, a hand-saw, wheel wrench and five gallons of gas were stolen from his car while parked on a Victoria street.

An appeal was made to camp and mill safety committees to co-operate with the 1953 executive in establishing a local safety council.

IWA Prepares Ballots for New Election

Names of candidates nominated for office Sunday at the annual meeting of Victoria Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, will be placed on ballots to be sent to all 1,400 members of the local.

They will be counted, tabulated, and results declared within 40 days.

At the Sunday meeting voting was held to eliminate all but two candidates for each position, whose names will be placed on the ballot.

They are: for president, Jack MacKenzie and James Maloney; first vice-president, J. Hess and S. A. Muir; second vice-president, Douglas Beamish and George Williams; third vice-president, Fred Copp and J. W. Crouch; financial secretary, Ed Haw and Leo Rowney.

Sam Cook was re-elected by acclamation as recording secretary.

In the report of officers it was stated that an effective program of job safety must be developed and implemented this year to reduce further the frequency of accidents.

An appeal was made to camp and mill safety committees to co-operate with the 1953 executive in establishing a local safety council.

Meat Prices Probe Sought by Farmers

VOTE TESTS OPINION ON MARKETING

Government Seeks B.C. Farmers' View

The Provincial Agriculture Department has recommended a plebiscite among growers operating under the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board "to determine whether or not a substantial majority favors continuance of the present system of marketing."

This is one of the main recommendations announced by Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan after an agriculture department investigation of marketing procedures.

"An expression of opinion by the growers at large would do much to clear the present atmosphere of distrust and vindictiveness which appears to pervade the local industry at present," the survey report said.

The board, established in 1934, exercises marketing control over a wide range of vegetables produced in the lower mainland and Vancouver Island.

Other recommendations:

1. A concerted program of public relations on the part of the board to acquaint the public with its aims and functions.

2. A continuous policy aimed at improving the quality of produce handled by the board.

3. A more active interest in, and support of, the board's policies by growers, coupled with a policy of education among these growers.

The survey was ordered after a series of complaints from consumers and producers about the board's operation.

It noted that the board chairman, Col. A. W. McLellan, has also been acting as manager of the board's selling agency.

"This arrangement is both unsound in principle and undesirable in practice. The chairman's recent declaration of intent to relinquish the latter position is therefore strongly endorsed. No reflection upon the chairman's integrity or ability is intended thereby," the report said.

Among the visitors are fruit growers from central British Columbia, wealthy ranchers from Alberta, owners of some of the largest wheat farms in the world, hog raisers from Ontario and potato growers from the Maritime Provinces.

WEATHER IMPRESSES Some of the delegates were astounded by Victoria's weather.

"It was 10 below zero when I left the Prairies," said one farmer who arrived in Victoria by air this morning.

Charles Walls, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, who was responsible for bringing the convention to Victoria, is in charge of entertaining the delegates during their stay here.

ON HONOR ROLL A Victoria student at Oregon State College, Miss Hazel Irene McGuire, has been listed on the fall term scholastic honor roll there. There were 373 students cited out of a total 4,170.

Y. P. A. Vesey, 1817 Crescent Road, who has appealed to the city to construct a seawall for protection of property at Gonzales Bay, wrote the city today stating the provincial government considers it is not financially responsible for such a project.

RAIN-MAKERS RUNNING AMOK Rain has fallen on 22 days to date this month and now totals 8.74 inches, more than double the monthly average of 4.25 inches.

Record rainfall for January of 13.28 inches fell in 1935, and the greatest number of days with rain—27—occurred in January of 1914.

Vancouver, which usually has double Victoria's rain, has had only 20 wet days so far this month.

Tonight and Tuesday will be cloudy with clear periods, and a few showers are expected. Temperatures will drop to between 36 and 45 degrees, and there is the likelihood of overnight frost in low-lying areas.

Too Much Speculation, Say Delegates To Conference of Western Industry

A resolution calling upon the federal government to hold an investigation into the meat packing industry and meat prices in general will be submitted to the national convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture opening at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

Western farmers in a pre-convention conference here today, endorsed the resolution, following charges that there is "too much speculation on meat."

Producers argued they are not responsible for the "high prices" the public has to pay for meat. They were of the opinion the profit of the "middleman" should be more in line with that of the meat producer.

A resolution asking the federal government to set up court to deal entirely with labor disputes will also be submitted to the convention. This resolution was endorsed by the Western Federation of Agriculture Saturday.

Farmers from all parts of Canada started invading Victoria over the week-end for the convention which will open Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Empress Hotel.

Among the visitors are fruit growers from central British Columbia, wealthy ranchers from Alberta, owners of some of the largest wheat farms in the world, hog raisers from Ontario and potato growers from the Maritime Provinces.

Yugoslavs Ready to Fight Again As Allies of UN, Says Diplomat

Yugoslavia will keep its ideology to itself; fight if necessary on the UN side; and protect freedom of worship within its borders.

Dr. Rajko Djermanovic, Marshal Tito's representative in Canada, who addressed a joint meeting of the Gyo Club and Chamber of Commerce at the Empress Hotel today, made these main points in an interview:

1. Yugoslavia's Social Democracy (Socialism) is not for export.

2. If war with Russia came, Yugoslavia would fight alongside Canada, Britain, the United States—whatever United Nations were involved.

3. Despite contrary reports, there is complete freedom of worship and of religion in his country.

Dr. Djermanovic stated emphatically that Yugoslavia does not wish to interfere in the internal government of any other country, does not necessarily wish its ideas of Social Democracy to be adopted by other countries—and wants no interference in its own internal affairs.

"That is why we threw Russia out," he said, grimly.

RESPECTS DEMOCRACY "I admire and respect your form of government in Canada," he added. "What is good for one country might not be good for other countries."

The Yugoslavian ambassador allowed for no "ifs, ands or buts" on his country's stand in the event of war. It is completely clear that we will fight with the UN," he said. "No other course is possible. We are not officially members of NATO, but we have military agreements with Turkey and Greece, who are members."

"We are with NATO in everything but the formality of membership."

He said there is complete freedom of religion and freedom of worship.

"The government spends $2,000,000 a year supporting Catholic theological colleges, where future priests are trained," he stated.

Dr. Djermanovic is optimistic about the future of his country under Tito's five-year plan to switch emphasis from agriculture to industry.

The ambassador will return to Vancouver tonight, and will address the student body of UBC before returning to Ottawa.

10-YEAR-OLD SMELLED GAS, SAVED MAN

Victim Recovering In City Hospital

Victoria had another near-fatal gassing accident Sunday night in which a 10-year-old boy played the role of hero.

James Jessome, about 36, tenant in a 859 Cormorant Street rooming house, was saved by the rooming house proprietor's son, Robert Michalenko.

Young Robert smelled gas in a hallway and sounded an alert. His father, Mike Michalenko, investigated and found Jessome unconscious in his room, a gas plate turned on.

Jessome apparently had put a pan of water on the gas plate. It boiled over, putting out the flame. Fumes overcame the man as he slept.

He was rushed to Jubilee Hospital by police ambulance where his condition today was reported "fairly good."

A.—1. The 1947 census showed the population at 1,484,064. An estimate in 1950 put the total at 1,549,596. 2. The settlement destined to become the capital of New South Wales was founded in 1788. 3. It was named in honor of Viscount Sydney, the Colonial Secretary.

AN AGE OF GREATNESS

Elizabethan England was passing through one of its darker moments. The parliament which had given Elizabeth money to fight in France also passed a new law against conjurations, enchantments and witchcraft. Even one of the Queen's bishops said of the bewitched: "Their color faded and their flesh rotteth."

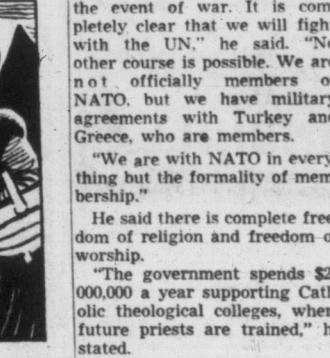

Inevitably superstition went hand in hand with cruelty. Torture was regarded as legitimate and was reserved not only for the victims of religious persecution. The rack and the Scavenger's Daughter—an iron hoop into which the unfortunate victim was compressed—were not so much the cruelties of the reign as of the age itself. To this superstitious England came staggering back the beaten survivors from Havre. They brought with them another familiar terror—the dreaded plague. In London alone 20,000 out of a population of 300,000 died. Five great outbreaks of plague caused the populations of some places to decrease during the reign.

New Hair Lightener
Brings Out Highlights

By PENNY SAVER

We have all heard the saying that a woman's hair is her shining glory.

I've been asking the fellows around the office what they think of this philosophy. You'd be amazed at the response.

One of the men was most emphatic in his belief that a woman's features can be ruined if her hair is not suitably styled. Another felt that a woman should never cut her hair but let it curl naturally around her shoulders.

"But," he added, "it must shine. To my way of thinking there is nothing more beautiful than clean and shining hair."

At this stage of the game I was quite confused. It hadn't occurred to me that those objects propped up at desks thought of such things.

This was fun! I continued my survey and this is what I found out, generally speaking.

Men aren't too fussy whether women keep up with the latest hair styles as long as the style they pick suits their features. Bangs may be the rage at the moment but if they give your face a pushed-in look they are obviously not stylish for you.

They were unanimous in their appreciation of soft sparkling hair. In our language that would mean hair with all the highlights brought out.

Now, there is something new on the market which will do this trick for you.

One of the leading manufacturers of shampoos and treatments for your hair has created a new cosmetic hair lightener which brings out all the natural glory of her hair.

It is not a dye nor a rinse. This revolutionary new single lotion requires no mixing, timing or shampooing. It lightens gradually, a little or a lot. Gives you natural-looking color that won't wash out!

Now blondes, brunettes, redheads see lighter, brighter, naturally becoming hair shades. The hair lightener is safe—contains no ammonia.

Sells at $1.75 a bottle.

AS WE LIVE

Finances Are Mutual Concern
Especially for Older Couples

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Traditionally, the man of the family keeps a tight hold on the family money. He does out money to family members as he sees fit. Women today object to this, especially when the man is not a good manager, as is true of the wife who writes:

(Q) "I am 59 years old and married to a man who is not a good manager. I have worked as much as I could to help him financially. We have a little money due to my saving. My husband doesn't consult me about money matters. He sneaks money to his oldest daughter by a previous marriage and she doesn't need it. He gets real angry when I mention it or protest. He won't let me have any say about our money and I am worried about what will happen to us when we are old. What can I do?"

(A) It is pretty late in the game now to do much about the financial condition of your family. Your husband's years of earning are rapidly coming to an end. Then you will be forced to live on your savings, or any benefits you may have.

Try, however, to impress on him the seriousness of rigid economy at your age. Urge him to consult you about any money he spends or gives away. He doubtless will not heed your warnings or consult you, and he has never done so before.

See that your savings are in joint name in the bank. You can then tell, when your bank statements come in, what he has spent during the preceding month. Then is the time to question him and to find out what the money was spent for.

If you are physically able, you would be wise to take part-time jobs whenever possible. There is a great need for baby-sitting today and this pays well. Then there are part-time jobs in stores, restaurants and offices.

What you can earn should be put in a savings account in your name alone. In this way, your husband cannot spend it and it will help you meet any emergency that arises.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SALMON LOAF

One pound can salmon (juice and crushed bones), 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 eggs beaten, 2 tablespoons chopped pickle, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 chopped hard-cooked egg.

WHITE SAUCE

One tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

We sometimes purposely let an avocado become too soft for slicing so it will be just right for mashing or sieving and using in salad dressings and molded salads. A favorite dressing is equal parts mashed avocado and mayonnaise with bit of dill seed for accent. Try this on shredded cabbage or a mixed green salad for something really good.

Here's a party dessert to serve when the main course of the meal hasn't been too filling. Arrange a canned pineapple slice in each dessert dish and on it place a canned cling peach half cup side up. Top with a scoop of ice cream and drizzle a spoonful of apricot jam over all with a final topping of roasted slivered almonds.

Prepare a thin white sauce with above-mentioned ingredients. To sauce add the flaked salmon, soft bread crumbs, well-beaten eggs, chopped pickle, chopped parsley and hard-cooked egg. Stir until well blended. Pour mixture into a greased casserole and place in a pan of hot water. Bake one hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Unmould, serve hot with sauce or cold on crisp greens. Yield: Six servings.

Leather Soles Better
Winter Foot Protection

Few people think of winter foot care as correlated with the number of colds they have. Yesterday I called your attention to the fact that warm feet, good circulation and non-perspiring feet will scare many a bacteria away.

Many authorities advise the use of all-leather shoes, especially leather soles, for winter weather. Tests in laboratories and on Polar expeditions have proven the merit of this advice. It has been established that there can be as much as 90 degrees difference in the temperature of the inside and outside of a leather sole on a freezing day.

After all, the leather you walk on once provided protection for a handsome steer who had no steam heating to help him keep warm. The structure of leather allows the diffusion of air in and out. It permits ventilation which sidesteps excess perspiration, and at the same time keeps the feet warm. Experienced woodsmen and hunters have long worn all-leather shoes. When you are walking about in winter weather, leather shoes will do the same thing for you.

People often confuse chills with irritations such as blisters, athlete's foot and frostbite. Real irritations of the feet about the toes and heels should be examined by a podiatrist or a family physician so that they may be diagnosed and treated immediately.

Composition soles should be avoided in cold weather because they seem to induce excessive perspiration and draw the feet. The use of rubbers in heated houses and trains has the same effect and often cause fissures in the skin on the bottoms of the feet and between the toes.

Our feet are so important to us, not only as a mode of transportation, but as to our comfort and even our health.

Foot or arch exercises are always beneficial but in winter they serve a double purpose because they not only strengthen muscles but they increase circulation, which is an important factor in avoiding the common cold.

If you have vague pains in the arches or calves or even in the hips you should see a physician, but you might also explore the possibility of weak arches because this too can bring you such discomforts.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 14 "Take Care of Your Feet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Miss Bacon Shows Skill, Confidence

BY AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A Victoria girl whose plans for a musical career have led her to major in music at the University of Washington, appeared in a pianoforte recital at the Arts Centre, Moss Street, Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Art Society.

Marilyn Bacon, a Licentiate of the Royal Schools of Music and now in her final year leading to a Bachelor of Music degree, presented a well-arranged program of considerable weight and merit.

The Bach Partita No. 2 in C minor, Sonata Opus 27, No. 1 of Beethoven, two Brahms Ballades, Opus 10, in D minor and B major, the Ravel Suite titled "Miroirs" and six Rumanian Folk Dances by Bela Bartok.

Such a program would constitute a challenge to any pianist and Miss Bacon rose to the occasion with enviable technical skill and confidence. She is mistress of a considerable tonal range with which, however, I have one quarrel: the quality she produces up to a forte is pleasant enough, but in going beyond this dynamic marking, the tone becomes forced and of an altogether too-hard brilliance.

This stridency has its appointed moments in the Bartok Dances and even in Ravel, but it is quite unwelcome in Bach and Beethoven.

The Ravel pieces were cleanly characterized, each a well-defined impression with a pearly virtuosity showing in trills, glissandos and runs. She was most successful in capturing the rhythmic significance of the Rumanian Dances and in spinning the long, flowing phrases of the Brahms numbers.

Miss Bacon, who began her musical education in Victoria, under the tuition of Una Calvert, delighted her many friends in the large audience with her brilliance, poise and relaxed, un-mannered approach to the keyboard.

Prairie Newspaperwoman With Farm Movement for Over 41 Years

BY DAWN VAN NORMAN

Among those women who are leaving their mark in success stories, firmly and frequently imprinted in the annals of Canadian life and growth, is Dr. Violet McNaughton.

She came to Victoria this week with her husband, who is attending the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Officially, Dr. McNaughton will not attend the convention, but unofficially, she will be present at every meeting, for she has been identified with the farm movement for more than 41 years and was a pioneer in introducing women into the business of growing grain.

This dynamic woman, with a keen zest for life, received the Order of the British Empire nearly 15 years ago for work on behalf of rural people, particularly in establishing medical aid in pioneer days. This phase of her work led to building of municipal hospitals.

In 1950 she received an honorary LL.D. from the University of Saskatchewan for outstanding work for the rural people. She is also a life member of Homemakers, a group on the prairies equivalent to women's institutes here.

Dr. McNaughton has a lively interest in the food and agricultural branch of United Nations.

"Women can do a lot to educate the people in their communities on the needs of this branch," she says.

"I feel it is one of the finest pieces of work any woman can do today, particularly the rural women," she added. "We need public opinion behind the spending of money."

... visitor in city

Another experience which Dr. McNaughton feels honored to have had was a trip last summer on a luxury train to Churchill as a special delegate sent by prairie farmers to boost the Churchill to Britain route for carrying grain.

"It is believed that the whole of the Canadian harvest could be exported from Churchill in the six weeks that the waters of Hudson Bay are navigable," she expressed with keen enthusiasm. "It would be ideal."

Another great thrill in her life was when she was sent to Copenhagen as a delegate to a meeting of Associated Countrywomen of the World, an international movement of women's institutes all over the world and kindred societies.

"While on the continent I found a wealth of writing material in Norway and Denmark and still more in England and Scotland."

And when she is not attending CF of A meetings in Victoria this week that is exactly what she will be doing here... she will be looking for story material in the city and on Saanich Peninsula for her weekly column, "Jottings by the Way," which appears in The Western Producer of Saskatchewan.

Dr. McNaughton was editor of this weekly paper for 25 years and still writes her column.

Through constant travel in the prairie provinces and many side trips she keeps this column alive with valuable and highly interesting material.

"My main interest is people," she tells you. "I love to meet them and write about them."

Besides her active writing career she is constantly dated to speak to groups in many provinces.

SIMILAR TO HITLER'S RULE

Jews Flee Soviet Berlin in Fright

Russians Held No Less Brutal Than Nazis By Refugees Who Fear Growing Persecutions

Terror, similar to that of Hitler's rule, has returned to the Jewish communities of Soviet-run East Germany. They rooted fears of persecution, arrest, and possibly death have prompted a mass flight of Jews from the Communist east to the freedom of Berlin's U.S. British and French sectors. It's a twice-told story to United Press manager for Germany, Joseph W. Gregg, who covered the Nazi pogroms as a correspondent in Berlin from 1939 to 1941. Following is the first of two dispatches telling of the new terror and comparing it with Nazi anti-semitic campaigns.

By JOSEPH W. GREGG

BERLIN (UP) — The hard-knuckled knock on the door echoed through the darkened house. The insistent, pre-dawn banging was a sound familiar and filled with terror for the survivors of Hitler's brutal anti-semitic pogroms.

The owner of the house was a Jew.

In panic he raised a rear window and leaped to the ground as he heard the door being forced.

He fled through the darkened alleyways into a nearby woods.

Today he is one of more than 400 Jews from the Soviet zone of Germany who have fled to West Berlin in a little more than a month.

Like most of his fellow refugees he arrived at this secret West Berlin refugee centre penniless and with nothing but the clothes on his back.

Take the case of Leon Zamajre, for example.

A little more than a week ago he was the owner of a prosperous music store in the East German city of Halle. He employed 11 persons, had a reasonably comfortable home.

Then the Communist East German officials began trailing him. They tapped his telephone. They called him in for repeated questioning. He became convinced arrest was certain. What fate would follow that he feared even to guess. He had spent 11

Prized Surgical Instruments Left

Like many of the Jews in these refugee centres, Frau Morgenstein said she fled less because of any real persecution than because of the growing fear that persecution would come in the future—or that the East-West Berlin frontier would be closed, trapping her and her son hopelessly.

"The Nazis were brutal," she said.

"The Russians are no less brutal. I wouldn't want to fall into their hands, and the slightest denunciation would suffice."

Another of the hundreds crowded together awaiting transportation by air to West Germany was an East Berlin Jewish physician. He said he was forced to leave behind even his prized surgical instruments in order to make his escape.

Some here told how they had lost their jobs. There were many like them, they said—all of them Jews.

They were not dismissed on anti-semitic grounds. "Just for no reason at all," they said.

Life in Communist East Germany is tough enough even with a job and ration coupons. Without them—escape appears the only way.

Most of the fugitives agree that there has been no outright persecution. Some doubt there will be anything similar to Hitler's ruthless pogroms. Still—they are mortally afraid.

Peter Levinson, American rabbi of Berlin, whose home is at (3550 Estes Place) Cincinnati, Ohio, believes there is real danger to Jewish lives in the Soviet zone.

What he fears is that the Soviet campaign of anti-semitism may sharpen the latent anti-semitism among some segments of the German population.

"Originally the Jewish community here (West Berlin) advised East German Jews not to come across unless their lives actually were in danger. But I told them I thought all should be encouraged to come. And the Jewish community here now advises all who wish to do so to flee to West Berlin," Levinson said.

Short-horn bulls were the first beef cattle imported by Japan to improve native herds after the Second World War.

Pharmacists Want More Trainees

A film aimed at encouraging high school graduates to enter the pharmacist profession was shown to the Victoria Pharmacists' Association during a Jubilee Hospital meeting, Sunday night.

Present as guests were Dean W. A. Mathews, head of the UBC School of Pharmacy, and F. H. Fullerton, executive secretary, B.C. Pharmaceutical Association.

The visiting officials have been in Victoria as part of a nation-wide campaign to publicize the need of pharmacists in Canada. They addressed students at Victoria High School, Friday.

years hiding out to escape death in Hitler's extermination camps. He feared it all was starting over again.

So he quietly assembled his wife, his 10-year-old son and six-year-old daughter and told them his plans. They would escape to the west.

They left without baggage; without extra clothes. "I had to pretend I was merely going on a brief business trip with my family," he said.

"Otherwise we never would have got here."

Then there is Frau Anna Morgenstein, a Jewish widow from the East Berlin suburb of Nieder Schoenhausen. Her son, Sigmund, 19, fled to the west some time ago. Police began watching her constantly.

Soon after he left, I was called to police headquarters in the Soviet sector and warned, "If your younger boy (Guenther) flees too you won't come off so easy."

"So we packed one bag, put on three sets of clothes and went fearfully aboard the elevated railroad to West Berlin. Luckily our bag wasn't examined by the police."

Police Have To Shoot Dog Guarding Master

WELLAND, Ont. (CP) — Police had to shoot a huge dog in order to reach the body of an aged farmer who died from a heart seizure near his barn Saturday night.

For more than half an hour three provincial police officers tried to lure the dog away from the body of its owner, William Neskorony, 73. With each approach the dog sprang menacingly at the officers.

GROUND SHOT OUT FROM UNDER FEET

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A Boise ditchmaster is in hospital because his shoes exploded.

Clarence Martin said he put sodium chlorate in some ditches about three weeks ago. The weather was wet and his shoes apparently soaked up some of the explosive chemical.

Last Friday, as he was installing a headgate, he set a grass fire to clear a ditch. He kicked some burning trash into the fire and his shoes exploded, leaving the uppers in shreds.

He ran across the street and jumped into a puddle of water. Shortly afterward, he entered hospital with burns.

Helicopter-Borne Marines Shoot Red in Strange Duel

SEOUL (AP) — Five United States Marines in a helicopter killed a Communist guerrilla Saturday in one of the oddest duels of the Korean war.

The guerrilla opened fire first and hit the helicopter three times with an American .45-calibre pistol — rated notoriously hard to shoot straight without long practice.

The Marines, 50 feet above the ground and travelling nearly 60 miles an hour, were even better marksmen. Firing carbines and pistols, they shot the guerrilla in the head and chest.

The guerrilla had put one slug into the instrument panel of the helicopter. The Marines were not hit.

PREACHED TO 'GHOSTS' FOR 20 YEARS

Eccentric 'Hermit' Parson Found Dead in Rectory

WARLEGGAN, Eng. (Reuters) — Rev. Frederick W. Denham, 83-year-old hermit parson, who for 20 years preached to "ghosts" in an empty church, was found dead this week-end in his barricaded rectory.

Police who forced the door after a neighbor had reported no sign of life at the gaunt rectory, found him lying on the staircase. He had been dead for 24 hours.

Since a row with his 160 parishioners 20 years ago, the eccentric rector lived the life of a recluse.

On Sundays he went to his church and held three services though there was seldom any congregation.

"I am not sure that I do not prefer my congregation of ghosts," he once said. "They cannot object to any innovation I make."

Denham's feud with his parishioners began in 1933—two years after he came to the village. They complained to the bishop that he had refused to hold services when they wanted them, converted church property to his own use and threatened to sell the organ.

After an inquiry, the Anglican bishop said he could not remove the rector. So the village boycotted the church.

So that you know what these people think about the results of treatment with Lantigen 'B' here are several extracts from letters which have been received.

SINUS INFECTION

"I had tried other remedies for sinus for five years but none of them helped me like Lantigen 'B'. I feel like a different person since taking Lantigen 'B'."

BRONCHITIS

"I have been a sufferer of Bronchitis for a number of years. I tried a bottle of Lantigen 'B' and I felt relief almost immediately. I am now using the third bottle and I can truly say I am receiving real benefit."

WHAT TO DO!

Take Lantigen 'B' with confidence whether your complaint be of long or short duration. It is simple to take—just a few drops in water held in the mouth and then swallowed.

Naturally, if you have been a sufferer for a considerable length of time it may take a little longer to bring the complaint under control—though in many cases the improvement is rapid, indisputable—sometimes spectacular.

What You Say Every Day Can Bring You Poise, Popularity

A publisher in Chicago claims there is a technique of everyday conversation which can pay you dividends in social and business advancement, give you added poise and greater popularity. The details of this method are described in an interesting booklet, "Adventures in Conversation," which will be sent free on request.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they are able to influence others simply by their everyday talk. Whether in business situations, in the home, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, it is claimed, there are ways in which you can make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint more men and women with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a 24-page booklet which they will send to anyone who requests it. The address is Dept. 5961 Conversation Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Chicago 14, Illinois. A postcard will do. There is no charge for the booklet.—Adv.

WHAT EX-SUFFERERS SAY!

Those who have taken Lantigen 'B' often write about the relief they have received. Their letters are evidence of the benefit you may expect in your own case. So that you know what these people think about the results of treatment with Lantigen 'B' here are several extracts from letters which have been received.

SINUS INFECTION

"I had tried other remedies for sinus for five years but none of them helped me like Lantigen 'B'. I feel like a different person since taking Lantigen 'B'."

BRONCHITIS

"I have been a sufferer of Bronchitis for a number of years. I tried a bottle of Lantigen 'B' and I felt relief almost immediately. I am now using the third bottle and I can truly say I am receiving real benefit."

WHAT TO DO!

Take Lantigen 'B' with confidence whether your complaint be of long or short duration. It is simple to take—just a few drops in water held in the mouth and then swallowed.

Naturally, if you have been a sufferer for a considerable length of time it may take a little longer to bring the complaint under control—though in many cases the improvement is rapid, indisputable—sometimes spectacular.

The Communist party organ said a food procurement ministry official named Gridasov was ordered to move 3,000 miles away. He registered Elsa as his sister and got the animal a private car. The government got the bill—25,000 rubles.

Royal Music Schools Quit Canadian Field

LONDON (CP) — Britain's Royal Schools of Music announced today—"with regret"—that its annual practice of sending examiners to Canada will end this summer.

Scholarships enabling gifted young Canadian musicians to study in Britain valued at more than $4,000 a year, also will be awarded for the last time in 1953.

Since 1897, professors from the royal academies and colleges have visited Canada annually to conduct practical examinations in music. The cost of the tours has increased, and recently the associated board of the royal schools has had to bear an annual deficit of $5,000.

Dr. Richard Felton of Victoria, for the past 17 years honorary local representative of the Associated Boards, said today the move came as no surprise.

"It is simply a sign of the times," he said. "We in Canada are trying to make our own way—in art, literature and music. Now we will have to set our own standards."

Dr. Felton explained that Canadian musicians wishing to take the Royal Schools examinations could still do so, if they wished to go to England, or any one of the Dominions where examiners will still be sent.

Hungarian Plays Ballet Lead

Winnipeg Ballet Company will stage one of the most popular numbers in its repertoire—"The Shooting of Dan McGrew," during its three-day appearance in Victoria, starting Wednesday, under sponsorship of Victoria Kiwanis Club.

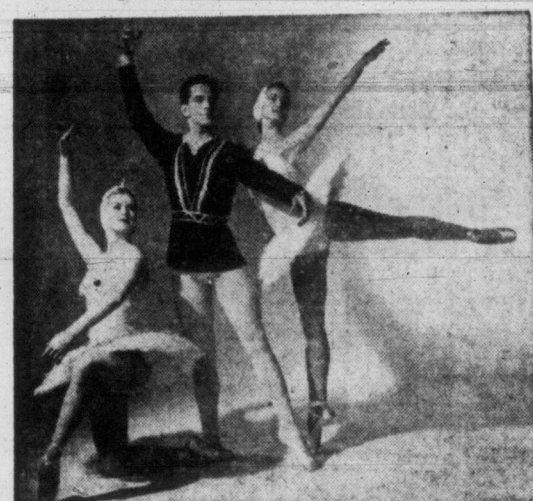

The ballet which has been a hit all across Canada was not included in the numbers presented in Victoria last spring, when the company made its first appearance here.

Taking the lead in the production based on Robert Service's famous verses, is Eva Von Gency, the dark-eyed Hungarian dancer who studied at the Russian Ballet Academy in Budapest.

The number will be staged both Wednesday and Friday nights.

All performances begin at 8.30 at the Royal Theatre. In addition to "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," first night audiences will see "Arabesque," "Concerto" and excerpts from "Sleeping Beauty."

Two states of the Union of South Africa, Natal and the Transvaal have land suitable for growing cotton.

THREE DANCERS who will appear here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with Winnipeg Ballet Co. are from left: Kay Bird, Bill McGrath of Victoria, and Jean Stoneham in a scene from "Swan Lake."

Oldest incorporated municipality in Canada, Saint John, N.B., received its charter in 1785.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

Self-Confidence: Breeder of Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, D.D.

This is the opening chapter of the best-selling book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," by Dr. N. V. Peale. Succeeding chapters will be published in The Times daily.

Have faith in your abilities: Without a humble but reasonable confidence in your own powers you cannot be successful or happy. But with sound self-confidence you can succeed. A sense of inferiority and inadequacy interferes with the attainment of your hopes, but self-confidence leads to self-realization and successful achievement.

It is appalling to realize the number of pathetic people who are hampered and made miserable by the malady popularly called the inferiority complex. But you need not suffer from this trouble. When proper steps are taken, it can be overcome. You can develop creative faith in yourself—faith that is justified.

After speaking to a convention of businessmen in a city auditorium, I was greeting people when a man approached me and, with a peculiar intensity of manner, asked, "May I talk with you about a matter of desperate importance to me?"

I asked him to remain until the others had gone. Then we sat down.

"I'm in this town to handle the most important business deal of my life," he explained. "If I succeed, it means everything to me. If I fail, I'm done for."

I suggested that he relax a little, that nothing was quite that final. If he succeeded, that was fine. If he didn't, tomorrow was another day.

"I have a terrible disbelief in myself," he said dejectedly. "I have no confidence. I just don't believe I can put it over. I am very discouraged and depressed. In fact, I'm just about sunk. Here I am, 40 years old. Why is it that all my life I have been tormented by inferiority feelings, by lack of confidence, by self-doubt? I listened to your speech tonight in which you talked about the power of positive thinking, and I want to ask how I can get some faith in myself."

TV FOR B.C. BY YEAR END CBC PROMISES

'Fringe' Reception Likely in Victoria

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Company expects that its Vancouver television station will be in operation by the end of this year, serving British Columbia's lower mainland and the east coast of Vancouver Island.

Vancouver Island points such as Victoria and Nanaimo, however, can expect only "fringe" reception, according to Kenneth Caple, CBC regional representative. Obstacles such as small mountains would hamper reception, he said, and cited Mount Douglas in Victoria as a possible "shadow" area.

DOWNTOWN STUDIO

Mr. Caple today announced the purchase of a downtown studio site and the opening of negotiations for a transmitter site on North Vancouver's Froome Mountain.

"We are speeding our project on a top priority basis," said Caple, "and expect to have our Vancouver TV outlet in operation by the end of this year."

Purchase of a building in Vancouver's West End, 1200 Georgia Street, was made to accommodate special television studios, Caple said. The price of the building was not disclosed.

Negotiations have opened with the North Vancouver municipal council for purchase of a site 1400 feet above sea level on Froome Mountain for construction of a transmitter building and erection of a 290-foot "directional antenna."

Speedy completion of the $1,000,000 project is dependent on construction of special equipment, said Caple.

Caple promised "satisfactory coverage" for most areas of lower British Columbia and added that roof antennas would not be needed by Vancouver viewers.

Fairweather Stabs Self

VANCOUVER (CP)—Albert Fairweather, 27-year-old logger awaiting his appeal of a 10-year sentence for manslaughter, has stabbed himself for the second time in three months.

The warden said Fairweather used a wire as his weapon for the "self-inflicted wound" in the stomach. He is recovering at the Provincial mental hospital.

DRINK BEER AT SPEED OF COFFEE, DEAN SAYS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Beer shouldn't be served any faster than coffee, says Dean Cecil Swanson, one of the members of British Columbia's three-man liquor inquiry commission.

He prefaced his evening sermon at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday night with remarks on the one-beer-at-a-time controversy.

He said beer parlor waiters should be able to do what waitresses have been doing for years. The waitress will bring you a second cup of coffee," the dean said. "You never go into a cafe and order two cups of coffee at a time."

He said ordering a beer, gulping it down, ordering another and so on was not civilized drinking but "hoggishness."

CBRE Snubs Railways' Suggestion of Referee

MONTREAL (CP)—Negotiations between the railways and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen broke down late today and the railways announced they are prepared to shut down when the union goes on strike Feb. 2.

Railway spokesmen said after the meeting, aimed at averting a strike over a wage dispute, that they felt the railways had offered a "fair" means of settlement and suggested bringing in a referee whose decision would be final.

They said the union representatives did not think the settlement proposals fair and declined the suggestion for a referee.

The rail spokesmen said the railways are sending out the "usual notices" which would be necessary for a shutdown Feb. 2.

The company spokesmen were S. F. Dingle, vice-president of Canadian National Railways and N. R. Crump, vice-president of Canadian Pacific Railway.

They met with a union negotiating committee headed by A. J. Kelly, vice-president of the brotherhood, which has announced it will call out its 25,000 members at 6 a.m. local time Feb. 2 if a satisfactory settlement is not reached.

Asked by reporters if there was any possibility of further meetings, Mr. Kelly nodded towards railway executives in a group across the room and said: "You had better ask those gentlemen over there."

The union, seeking a 35-per cent wage boost for its members, has said it is willing to negotiate on the basis of conciliation board minority report recommending 20 per cent.

The railways favored the majority report, which recommended 12 per cent.

Police Investigate Loss of 'Canada'

$5,000,000 Ship Guttured by Mysterious
Sunday Fire; No Passengers Aboard

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (CP)—The $5,000,000 luxury liner, Empress of Canada, heeled over at the dockside and settled on her side a total loss today, following a 9½-hour mysterious fire Sunday which has prompted an immediate investigation by high police officials into possible sabotage.

Dr. J. B. Firth, a home office expert, was called from London to aid in the investigation with Chief Superintendent Herbert Balmer of the Liverpool criminal investigation department. Balmer, in charge of the inquiry, said the possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out, "but the cause may have been quite accidental."

2,100 Lack Passage to Coronation

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian Pacific Steamships' officials met today to plan a way to get 2,100 persons to Britain for the Coronation after their reservations aboard the Empress of Canada were automatically canceled by the ship's loss in a Liverpool dockside fire.

Neal Wiseman, passenger agent for the line, said a conference of officials "must be held at once" but he admitted that nobody knew now exactly what could be done.

It was estimated that at 700 passengers a time the ill-fated liner would have carried 2,100 persons overseas in the three trips before the Coronation, June 6.

Virtually every passenger ship bound for Britain between now and the Coronation is booked to capacity.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Prices

Stock prices continued strong in light turnover at Vancouver exchange in the final session today.

Gains predominated among base metals and western oils, with advances sprinkled throughout a list of junior stocks.

Quatsino traded at 52½; Pacific Nickel $1.05; Okalta $2.90; Doreen Mines 31c; Calvan $6.

Among industrial issues, Canadian Western Lumber sold at $9¼.

Of the fire which left the Empress of Canada, which had been freshly spruced up for this year's Coronation traffic a smoking hulk, the Daily Mail said this was the fourth mysterious fire in the Gladstone dock system at Liverpool in recent weeks. Others involved the Ellerman Line's City of Florence, the same line's City of Gloucester and small fires in the Queen Mary.

"There were suspicious circumstances" in one of the Queen Mary fires, the Daily Mail said. The sprinkler system in a cabin where the fire started appeared to have been tampered with.

PASSENGERS CLEAR

Fortunately no passengers were on board and the 25-odd crew members aboard escaped safely. But five firemen fighting the blaze were taken to hospital with minor injuries.

The fire, of undetermined origin, laid the 20,235-ton ocean queen low. The fire, which possibly started in the dispensary below decks, quickly spread through the 25-year-old vessel and rendered firemen almost helpless.

Police Superintendent Balmer made a preliminary investigation and asked the home office for the assistance of scientists. He said "the possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out."

The ship had been due to leave for Saint John, N.B., Feb. 11 under command of Capt. J. P. Dobson, on leave at his Liverpool home at the time of the fire.

Hundreds of tons of water were poured into her and speeded a sharp list to port. Her super-structure and funnels crashed into a dockside shed. The ship's yard-arm crashed through the building. The liner ended on her side, settled in the muddy water almost up against the dockside.

A company spokesman described the vessel as a "total loss."

Farmers Want Barter, Sterling Payments for British Markets

Western Canadian farmers want to see revival of trade with Britain, assisted by acceptance of sterling payments, long-term credits and barter in goods.

Unanimously, the delegates, meeting at the Empress Hotel, endorsed a resolution urging the federal government to restore former trade channels. British Columbia farmers comprised one of the main groups which spoke strongly in favor of the resolution which is directly opposed to the present trade policy of the federal government.

Col. A. W. McLellan, Cloverdale, B.C., pointed out that trade with the sterling area was the only way Canadian farmers can get rid of surplus farm products.

HUNGER AMID PLENTY

"Why should food be permitted to go to waste when there are countries greatly in need of food?" he asked.

It was pointed out that the closing of the British markets to important primary products originating in Canada, including agricultural, horticultural, poultry, livestock, forest and fisheries commodities, is impairing the economy of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Delegates felt that the federal government could develop a two-way trade between Canada and the United Kingdom to improve particularly the economy of the four western provinces.

This question will be one of the main issues to be threshed out between western farmers and Hon. James G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, who will be in Victoria Tuesday to open the national convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Nomination of Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense comes up in the senate today with indications that he will get overwhelming approval despite a fight by Senator Wayne Morse, Ind., Ore., against the appointment.

Senator Robert Taft, Rep. O., the majority leader, was seeking a vote on Wilson's nomination before nightfall.

TV FOR B.C. BY YEAR END CBC PROMISES

'Fringe' Reception Likely in Victoria

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Company expects that its Vancouver television station will be in operation by "the end of this year," serving British Columbia's lower mainland and the east coast of Vancouver Island.

Vancouver Island points such as Victoria and Nanaimo, however, can expect only "fringe" reception, according to Kenneth Caple, CBC regional representative. Obstacles such as small mountains would hamper reception, he said, and cited Mount Douglas in Victoria as a possible "shadow" area.

DOWNTOWN STUDIO

Mr. Caple today announced the purchase of a downtown studio site and the opening of negotiations for a transmitter site on North Vancouver's Froome Mountain.

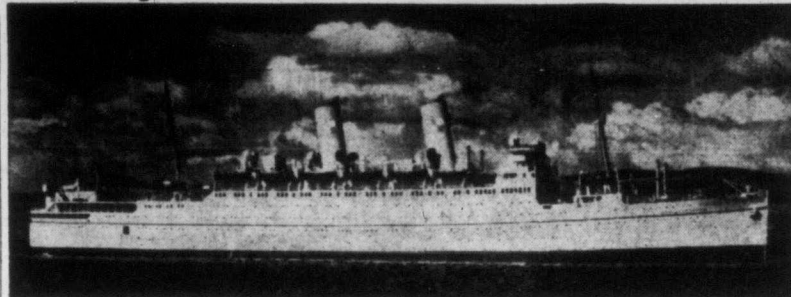

"We are speeding our project on a top priority basis," said Caple, "and expect to have our Vancouver TV outlet in operation by the end of this year."

Purchase of a building in Vancouver's West End, 1200 Georgia Street, was made to accommodate special television studios, Caple said. The price of the building was not disclosed.

Negotiations have opened with the North Vancouver municipal council for purchase of a site 1400 feet above sea level on Froome Mountain for construction of a transmitter building and erection of a 290-foot "directional antenna."

Speedy completion of the $1,000,000 project is dependent on construction of special equipment, said Caple.

Caple promised "satisfactory coverage" for most areas of lower British Columbia and added that roof antennas would not be needed by Vancouver viewers.

Proud Ship Burns at Dock

The 20,235-ton Empress of Canada, destroyed by fire in the Mersey Sunday was formerly the Duchess of Richmond, and was well-known to Second World War veterans as a troop ship. After the war she was renamed the Empress of Canada for the first Empress of Canada, which was sunk by an enemy submarine off Freetown,

West Africa, with the loss of 400 lives. Her end came shortly before she was to have been replaced, Managing Director A. C. MacDonald said recently that the keel of a ship to replace her would be laid next summer or fall with completion expected in two or three years.

Railwaymen Say Progress Made in Talk

MONTREAL (CP)—Railway officials reported progress today at their meeting with the negotiating committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, called in an effort to avert a strike Feb. 2 over a wage dispute.

There was no formal statement when the meeting adjourned for lunch, but S. F. Dingle, vice-president of Canadian National Railways, said there was "progress."

L. C. Malone, secretary of the BRT, said he had nothing to report except adjournment. The meeting was resumed later this afternoon.

Mr. Dingle and N. R. Crump, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, met with the union representatives following their telegram Friday suggesting continued negotiations with themselves present.

The brotherhood originally sought a 35 per cent wage increase. The majority report of a conciliation board recommended 12 per cent and a minority report 20 per cent.

The union wanted discussions to centre around the minority report while the railway held out for the majority report as the basis of negotiations.

2,100 TRAVELERS LACKING PASSAGE

Victorians Among Heavy Bookings On Burned Liner, Coronation-Bound

MONTREAL (BUP)—Canadian Pacific Steamships' officials met today to plan a way to get 2,000 persons to Britain for the Coronation after their reservations aboard the Empress of Canada were automatically canceled by the ship's loss in a Liverpool dockside fire.

Neal Wiseman, passenger agent for the line, said a conference of officials "must be held at once" but he admitted that nobody knew now exactly what could be done.

It was estimated that at 700 passengers a time the ill-fated liner would have carried 2,100 persons overseas in the three trips before the Coronation, June 6.

Virtually every passenger ship bound for Britain between now and the Coronation is booked to capacity.

Victoria's travel agencies, contacted today, said it was difficult to say how many city and island people would face displacement in their plans to attend the Coronation.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, of West Saanich, booked to return here after a visit to her family in Lancaster during May, was to have taken passage in the Empress. "I have no idea what will happen," she said. "I suppose they'll find us other accommodation. But there may be delays. I understand booking has been heavy to and from the United Kingdom."

Fairweather Stabs Self Second Time

VANCOUVER (CP)—Albert Fairweather, 27-year-old logger awaiting his appeal of a 10-year sentence for manslaughter, has stabbed himself for the second time in three months, Warden Hugh Christie of Oakalla prison said today.

The warden said Fairweather used a wire as his weapon for the "self-inflicted wound" in the stomach. He is recovering at the Provincial mental hospital.

Christie said it was not an attempted suicide but rather part of what appears to be a mental disturbance. Last fall, Fairweather stabbed himself in the stomach with a broken spoon.

Fairweather was originally charged with murder in the fatal stabbing of Raymond Boyce, 24, at Duncan, B.C., Sept. 19, 1951. He was convicted and sentenced to be hanged but was granted a new trial, where he was found guilty of manslaughter.

Alberta RCAF Fatality Probed

CLARESHOLM, Alta. (CP)—An investigation has started into the fatal crash-landing of a Harvard training plane Saturday in southern Alberta, one of three RCAF crashes in Western Canada during the week-end.

Killed in the crash near High River, 35 miles north of the plane's base here, was FO James Scott, 27, of Calgary, a veteran of the Royal Navy and the RCAF. A pilot instructor, he came to Canada two years ago from Scotland.

Scott's pupil, Chief CPM Roger J. Steiner of the French Air Force, escaped injury.

Airliner Grounding Costs $70,000 a Day

LONDON (BUP)—Scotland Yard today investigated possible sabotage of airlines operated by British Overseas Airways Corporation between Britain, Canada and the United States.

A spokesman for the Crown-owned airline confirmed that Scotland Yard detectives had been called in after engineers were baffled by 15 cases of engine trouble in five days.

All of the company's 10 U.S.-built Boeing stratojets—seven on this side of the Atlantic and three at North American airports—were ordered grounded indefinitely last week. The spokesman said the order was costing BOAC $70,000 a day.

In less than two months engine trouble aboard the stratojets has delayed some of the world's most publicized passen-

Home Office Investigator Called In

Compiled From CP Dispatches

LIVERPOOL, Eng. — The $5,000,000 luxury liner, Empress of Canada, heeled over at the dockside and settled on her side a total loss today, following a 9½-hour mysterious fire Sunday which has prompted an immediate investigation by high police officials into possible sabotage.

Dr. J. B. Firth, a home office expert, was called from London to aid in the investigation with Chief Superintendent Herbert Balmer of the Liverpool criminal investigation department. Balmer, in charge of the inquiry, said the possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out, "but the cause may have been quite accidental."

Of the fire which left the Empress of Canada, which had been freshly spruced up for this year's Coronation traffic, a smoking hulk, the Daily Mail said this was the fourth mysterious fire in the Gladstone dock system at Liverpool in recent weeks. Others involved the Ellerman Line's City of Florence, the same line's City of Gloucester and small fires in the Queen Mary.

"There were suspicious circumstances" in one of the Queen Mary fires, the Daily Mail said. The sprinkler system in a cabin where the fire started appeared to have been tampered with.

PASSENGERS CLEAR

Fortunately no passengers were on board and the 25-odd crew members aboard escaped safely. But five firemen fighting the blaze were taken to hospital with minor injuries.

The fire, of undetermined origin, laid the 20,235-ton ocean queen low. The fire, which possibly started in the dispensary below decks, quickly spread through the 25-year-old vessel and rendered firemen almost helpless.

Police Superintendent Balmer made a preliminary investigation and asked the home office for the assistance of scientists. He said: "The possibility of sabotage cannot be ruled out."

The ship had been due to leave for Saint John, N.S., Feb. 11 under command of Capt. J. P. Dobson, on leave at his Liverpool home at the time of the fire.

Hundreds of tons of water were poured into her and speeded a sharp list to port. Her super-structure and funnels crashed into a dockside shed. The ship's yard-arm crashed through the building. The liner ended on her side, settled in the muddy water almost up against the dockside.

A company spokesman described the vessel as a "total loss."

Her former master, Capt. E. A. Shergill, who now has a shore job with the company, said: "This is my saddest moment. We were such old friends."

She carries a crew of 350 Britons and accommodates 700 passengers.

DRINK BEER AT SPEED OF COFFEE, DEAN SAYS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Beer shouldn't be served any faster than coffee, says Dean Cecil Swanson, one of the members of British Columbia's three-man liquor inquiry commission.

He prefaced his evening sermon at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday night with remarks on the one-beer-at-a-time controversy.

He said beer parlor waiters should be able to do what cafe waitresses have been doing for years. "The waitress will bring you a second cup of coffee," the dean said. "You never go into a cafe and order two cups of coffee at a time."

He said ordering a beer, gulping it down, ordering another and so on was not civilized drinking but "hogghishness."

Pope Showing Improvement From Bronchial Pneumonia

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Pope, suffering from bronchial pneumonia, was reported slightly improved today. Vatican sources already had said there was no cause for concern.

No official bulletin was issued today on the condition of the 76-year-old Pontiff, who has been in bed since last Thursday. His ailment at first was described as influenza, but Vatican sources confirmed Sunday it was bronchial pneumonia.

No official information has been released on the treatment given the Pope. Sources at the Vatican said, however, it could be assumed that such modern medicines as penicillin were being administered.

The Pontiff's persistent fever late Sunday night hovered around the 101-degree mark. His

Chilcotin Drydocked After Touching Shoal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Union Steamships' vessel Chilcotin arrived here from her northern run Sunday night and reported she had "touched bottom" on a shoal off Cumshewa Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands. She arrived on schedule.

The ship received no visible damage but will go into drydock today for a survey.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

Self-Confidence: Breeder of Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, DD
This is the opening chapter of the best-selling book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," by Dr. N. V. Peale. Succeeding chapters will be published in The Times daily.

Have faith in your abilities: Without a humble but reasonable confidence in your own powers you cannot be successful or happy. But with sound self-confidence you can succeed. A sense of inferiority and inadequacy interferes with the attainment of your hopes, but self-confidence leads to self-realization and successful achievement.

It is appalling to realize the number of pathetic people who are hampered and made miserable by the malady popularly called the inferiority complex. But you need not suffer from this trouble. When proper steps are taken, it can be overcome. You can develop creative faith in yourself—faith that is justified.

After speaking to a convention of businessmen in a city auditorium, I was greeting people when a man approached me and, with a peculiar intensity of manner, asked, "May I talk with you about a matter of desperate importance to me?"

I asked him to remain until the others had gone. Then we sat down.

"I'm in this town to handle the most important business deal of my life," he explained. "If I succeed, it means everything to me. If I fail, I'm done for."

I suggested that he relax a little, that nothing was quite that final. If he succeeded, that was fine. If he didn't, tomorrow was another day.

"I have a terrible disbelief in myself," he said dejectedly. "I have no confidence. I just don't believe I can put it over. I am very discouraged and depressed. In fact, I'm just about sunk. Here I am, 40 years old. Why is it that all my life I have been tormented by inferiority feelings, by lack of confidence, by self-doubt? I listened to your speech tonight in which you talked about the power of positive thinking, and I want to ask how I can get some faith in myself."

Glad 'hev all them farmer fellers in town this week. Got a window box that ain't bin doin' so well an' I'm hopin' t' git a little advice.

Heard th' CPR's Empress had burned. But 'twasn't till a report said she'd keeled over I realized I had th' wrong place in mind.

Bet th' drygoods men are wonderin' about night store possibilities now.

Rita Hayworth, who maintains she has no romantic plans, gets her Nevada divorce today from Aly Khan, playboy Moslem prince she married after a globe-girdling courtship in 1949. Jack Leighter, Rita's business manager, said that no financial settlement has been reached with Aly concerning their three-year-old daughter, Yasmin, for whom Rita once asked $3,000,000. Rita qualified for the divorce more than a year ago by establishing the six-week Nevada residence.

75-Foot-Deep Slide Buries Rail Cars

BOSTON BAR, B.C. (CP)—A 75-foot-deep rock and mud slide buried three cars of a Canadian National Railways freight train in the Fraser canyon today, 19 miles south of here. Nobody was hurt.

One of the empty cars later rolled down the embankment into the river.

CNR officials said passenger trains were not held up by the 200-foot-long slide, expected to be cleared later today.
